Plane Crashes Into Convent

Top Officials Rule Out U.S. Military Cut

Dulles And Wilson Warn Nation Must Keep Its Guard Up

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Secretaries Dulles and Wilson declared today the United States must keep its guard up despite Russia's announced intention to slash its armed forces by 1,200,000 men.

Dulles expressed the view the cut would not materially reduce the Soviets' power to wage atomic war and might even increase it. Men taken out of uniform could be put to work making nuclear weapons, the secretary of state said.

Secretary of Defense Wilson said the Russian move would not, by itself, "justify any appreciable change in our present military strength." Nor, he said, would it justify changes "in our present programs for cooperating with our Allies in the defense of the Free World."

Similar views were voiced by officials of the Air Force.

Dulles said the United States "welcomes" the Soviet announcement "if this proves to be an evidence of an intent to forego the use of force in international affairs."

Complacency Feared

Similarly Wilson said the Russian announcement "would seem to be a step in the right direction."

However, both their statements were weighted on the cautionary side. The two Cabinet members appeared to be concerned lest the Soviet move generate too much of a sense of security in this country or among its Allies.

Whether their views were shared throughout the administration could not be known until other officials found occasion to express their opinion publicly. It seemed possible that as possible evidence of declining reliance on the use of force as an instrument of policy the projected Russian reduction in manpower under arms might eventually generate more optimism than Dulles and Wilson had thought wise to express at this time.

Air Chiefs Advise Caution

Secretary of the Air Force Quarles and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, joined Dulles in urging that the Soviet announcement of plans be treated with extreme caution until all the facts are known.

They told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee the Russian move called for no change in the Air Force's request for 16½ billion dollars in the next fiscal year.

In Congress Sen. George (D-Ga), soon-to-retire chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, cautioned against playing down the Soviet proposal "without careful evaluation."

"We shouldn't let our guard down, but we ought to be quite willing to make a careful examination which will take time," said George, who last night accepted an invitation from President Eisenhower to work with the administration in expanding the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

ROK President Rhee Reelected To Third Term

SEOUL, South Korea, Wednesday, May 16 (AP)—Syngman Rhee today won his third term as president of South Korea on the basis of incomplete but conclusive returns from yesterday's presidential election.

But the President, 81, was trailing a dead candidate in a surprisingly heavy protest vote in the capital city of Seoul itself.

With 3,090,700 ballots counted over the nation—almost half of the vote cast—Rhee had a commanding margin over ex-Communist Cho Bong Am, his only live opponent.

National police said unofficial returns counted by 7:30 a.m. gave Rhee 2,227,309 and Cho 889,242, with 793,179 invalid.

Election officials said the bulk of the invalid ballots were for P. H. Shinicky, the Democratic party candidate and Rhee's longtime political foe. Shinicky died of a cerebral hemorrhage while campaigning May 5.

In Seoul balloting, Rhee got only 173,869 votes as compared to 237,442 invalid ballots. Cho had 102,301 in Seoul.

The bulk of the vote still uncounted is from rural areas, where Rhee's greatest political strength lies.

British Red Party Admits 'Mistakes,' Blames Joe Stalin

LONDON, Wednesday, May 16 (AP)—Britain's Communist party, following the Moscow line, confessed today to a "number of mistakes" and blamed them on Stalin.

These mistakes, said a party statement, included "our support for the accusation against the Yugoslav Communist leaders as traitors, and our condemnation of a number of those falsely convicted."

The Statement followed last weekend's shakeup of the British party hierarchy. Harry Pollitt, 65, a long-time admirer of Stalin, resigned as general secretary. He gave bad health as the reason. John Gollan, 45, a leader in promoting Communist youth units, took over.

The party expressed regret for its mistakes and withdrew its "mistaken attacks."

Six Executives, Two Others Die In Plane Crash

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., May 15 (AP)—Six executives of a Chicago business firm and two crew members were killed today when a twin - engine company plane crashed on an Indiana farm while attempting an emergency landing.

The plane literally buried itself in muddy land. Removal of the bodies took almost two hours.

State police said there was a remote possibility that a ninth body was buried underneath the wreckage.

An official passenger list, however, gave the names of only eight people.

No Indication Of Trouble

Eleven minutes out of Louisville's Standiford Field, the pilot made routine radio contact with the tower, giving no indication of trouble.

A private pilot, John Vissing, had telephoned police before the crash that a plane was in trouble and circling for an emergency landing.

Six of the victims were executives of the Crane Co. of Chicago, on their way to Louisville to attend a convention of the Heating, Piping and Air Conditioners National Assn. The other two were crewmen.

Victims Identified

The company identified them as:

J. A. McMurry, director of branches.

J. A. Dwyer, vice president.

George L. Erwin, vice president.

Charles E. Towner, assistant to the vice president in charge of heating.

G. G. Lindholm, a departmental manager.

Fred J. Wilkey, special representative.

Randy Mulherin, pilot.

Robert Robinette, copilot.

Coe Swears He Never Was Spy For Russians

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Virginius Frank Coe surprised the Senate Internal Security subcommittee today by casting aside his Fifth Amendment protection and swearing he never was a spy.

Coe, one of the former Treasury Department employes linked to Soviet espionage by Elizabeth Bentley, refused to say whether he is a Communist.

In doing so, he relied on his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination after the subcommittee overruled his plea of the First Amendment's free speech guarantee.

When Coe last appeared before the subcommittee, he invoked his Fifth Amendment protection and refused to say whether he then was a member of a Soviet espionage ring.

That was on Dec. 3, 1952. A few days later Coe was dismissed as secretary of the International Monetary Fund.

Coe told the subcommittee he now is anxious to answer all questions about espionage and swore, "I never at any time engaged in espionage."

21 Killed In Crash Of Indian Airliner

KATMANDU, Nepal, May 15 (AP)—An Indian Airlines plane crashed and burned today, killing 18 passengers and three other persons. Eight passengers and three crewmen were injured.

Most of the passengers were children.

The crash occurred when the plane was coming into Katmandu Airport for a landing. The two-engine Dakota C47 hit a ditch and careened into an airport hut. Three persons in the hut were killed.

It was the worst air disaster in Nepal's history. Most of the passengers were Nepalese children returning to their homes in this Himalayan mountain kingdom from Indian schools for summer vacations.

Monk Reports Tibetan Revolt

KALIMPONG, India, May 15 (AP)—A Tibetan monk told newsmen today that eastern Tibet is in open rebellion against the ruling Chinese Communists, who took over the country in 1950.

"Fighting is continuing over wide areas," he said, many Chinese have been killed and some Buddhist monasteries have been bombed by Chinese warplanes.

The monk, who introduced himself as Ning Pe, monk commissioner of Gyangtse, an important Tibetan center, said he had left Tibet to tell the outside world what is happening in his country.

He said he was asking other Asian nations to use their influence to get the Chinese out.

Rumors of an uprising in Tibet were reported earlier this month during the coronation of King Mahendra of neighboring Nepal. Reports circulated among diplomats attending the ceremonies in Katmandu told of widespread fighting in eastern Tibet.

An Indian government spokesman said last Friday these reports were exaggerated.

GM Head Predicts More Layoffs In Auto Industry

DETROIT, May 15 (AP)—Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., today cut back his production goal on auto production this year and forecast additional layoffs in the industry.

He said this year's output probably would come to 5,800,000 cars instead of the 6½ million he forecast earlier this year.

Curtice said General Motors is going to try to maintain a 40-hour work week, cutting back jobs rather than hours. He said however, that the layoffs which may come will not be "severe."

The indicated production total, he said, still will give the industry a good year—the third best rather than the second best in industry history.

The General Motors president also said that his cars will cost more next year.

In view of probable increased steel prices "you may assume that the 1957 model GM cars will carry higher price tags," he told a news conference.

The news conference was a preliminary to tomorrow's dedication of the new multimillion dollar General Motors Technical Center north of Detroit.

The highlight of tomorrow's dedicate ceremonies will be a short personal message by President Eisenhower over a closed-circuit television network to 61 cities in the United States and Canada. The President's talk from the White House will be fed into the television circuit in Detroit.

Knowland Sees Farm Bill Ike Can Approve

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland today expressed confidence Congress will produce a farm legislation acceptable to President Eisenhower.

The California senator discussed the pending farm measure with newsmen at the White House after he and other Republican congressional leaders concluded their regular Tuesday morning conference with the President.

A newsman asked whether the President ever had spelled out for the leaders any objections he might have to the new legislation. This would provide mainly for a farm soil bank which the administration wants.

Knowland replied that the President himself has done not so, but the Agriculture Department has made it clear it is opposed to some features of the new bill. The House already has passed the farm measure and Knowland predicted the Senate quite likely will complete action by the end of the week.

USW To Seek Wage Boost, Premium Pay

Additional Jobless Benefits Included Among 22 Demands

PITTSBURGH, May 15 (AP)—The United Steel Workers Wage Policy Committee today handed union negotiators a draft of 22 demands to be made on a busy, profit-making steel industry in 1956 contract bargaining.

The demands touch on almost every phase of the existing contract and among other things seek a "substantial" wage increase, premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work, and supplemental unemployment benefits.

USW President David J. McDonald said the program is "reasonable" in view of the steel industry's present profit record. Most of the big basic producers reported record earnings for the first quarter of the year.

Secret Sessions Held

The 170-member Wage Policy Committee met in secret session for two days to formalize the demands. The committee did not put a dollars and cents value on the package.

The demands will be presented to 172 basic steel firms and iron ore mining companies whose contracts expire at midnight June 30. The union would be free to strike then if agreements are not reached.

McDonald said the issues were discussed "exuberantly" and "approved unanimously." he added:

"These are reasonable contract proposals. I hope the companies with whom we negotiate will cooperate with us in bringing about at an early date new labor contracts."

Average Now $2.47 Hour

Other demands which McDonald referred to as highlights and which the committee called "long overdue" are improved insurance benefits, a union shop and more holidays and longer vacations.

The union demands cover 650,000 workers in the basic steel industry. They now earn an average of $2.47 an hour. The present contract provides for six holidays with pay and a modified union shop with an escape clause.

$100,000 In Gems Reported Missing By Movie Magnate

LOS ANGELES, May 15 (AP) — Jewels valued at $100,000 were reported missing today by Albert Warner, one of the three moviemaking brothers.

Warner, through an insurance adjuster, reported a traveling bag containing the jewels did not arrive on the plane he and Mrs. Warner took back to New York Sunday. It may have been lost or stolen, the adjuster, Robert L. Reynolds, told police.

Warner, who resides in New York, was here to close the 19-million dollar sale of controlling interest in Warner Bros. studio.

Revolt In Algeria Spreads To New Area

ALGIERS, May 15 (AP)—French military authorities announced tonight the bloody nationalist revolt has spread to a new area in north central Algeria.

A well-organized band of 250 rebels, equipped in part with automatic weapons, is operating near Taguine in the foothills of the Ouled Nail mountains, they said. This area hitherto has been free of rebel activity.

France's Chief Assures West Of Faithfulness

MOSCOW, May 15 (AP)—French Premier Guy Mollet, a schoolmasterish Socialist, arrived in this capital of world communism today for talks he hopes will help ease East-West friction. But he said France will remain true to her Western partners.

"France belongs to alliances—I would even say a community—to which she will remain faithful," Mollet told Premier Nikolai Bulganin and other Russians who welcomed him in spring sunshine at Ukova airdrome.

"This goes hand in hand with a continual incessant concern to seek the peaceful settlement of all disagreements which exist in the world," said Mollet, the first top political figure from the Big Three Western powers to visit Moscow since World War II.

The 50-year-old Premier, a onetime English teacher who took the helm of France's government 3½ months ago, is accompanied by his Socialist foreign minister, Christian Pineau.

Flying with them to Moscow in a four-engine French transport was a party of 40, including French Foreign Ministry experts, newsmen and the Soviet ambassador to Paris, Sergei Vinogradov.

In the welcoming party with Bulganin were his two first deputy premiers, Lazarus M. Kaganovich and Mikhail Pervukhin, and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Also on hand was Gen. Ivan Serov, chief of the Soviet secret police, who coordinated security arrangements in England for the visit of Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The British-Soviet talks perhaps set a pattern. They solved no major problem. But the Russians voiced a belief they served the cause of peace. And Prime Minister Eden said "it may be that the immediate dangers of war have receded."

Bulganin and Khrushchev have hinted they would welcome talks with President Eisenhower. Washington has shown no inclination to promote such.

Independence For Singapore Talks Collapse

LONDON, May 15 (AP) — British talks with Singapore leaders on independence for the strategic Southeast Asia base broke down tonight.

"This is a great victory for communism," Singapore Chief Minister David Marshall told newsmen in a voice trembling with anger. He said he was going home to resign.

British Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd blamed the breakdown on insistence of Singapore leaders that Britain retain only paper control over the crown colony. He said:

"In the light of Singapore's great strategic importance on the defense of the free world, and bearing also in mind the growing menace of Communist subversion in the island, Her Majesty's government considered that it was unreasonable to expect them to accept this position which involved responsibilities without adequate powers."

To newsmen Lennox-Boyd added:

"I believe the offer we made was imaginative and constructive. In my view it would have gone very far to satisfy the aspirations of the people of Singapore without ignoring the strategic realities and menace of communism in the island."

The three week-old conference finally collapsed in a dispute over the makeup of a proposed security council to control internal defense affairs in the fortress colony.

Britain wanted complete control of this council, with the parallel right to get back quickly into the vital island base in the event of trouble.

Marshall, 50, leader of a Labor government, stood firm for Singapore domination with a United Nations, or a Malayan chairman.

Civil War Vet Marks His 110th Birthday

FT. BLACKMORE, Va., May 15 (AP)—John B. Salling, a tired but happy old man, relaxed tonight after a full day of festivities that marked his 110th birthday.

Virginia's only surviving Civil War veteran early today donned his gray uniform, greeted scores of friends, happily posed for television and newspaper photographers, and later on had some birthday cake.

Supreme Court Hit For Damage Award Reversal

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP) — Rep. Preston (D-Ga) proposed today that the government take care of a $90,000 injury award which the Supreme Court first approved and then called back.

Preston suggested that since the court held Monday that its original order was erroneous, it should also recall its 1954 order against racial segregation "on the grounds that it was erroneous."

The court, he said, has demonstrated "its ability to create confusion and chaos."

Last Nov. 21 the court by vote of 5-4 upheld a $90,000 award to Raymond G. Cahill for injuries suffered while working for the New Haven Railroad. His back was crushed between a train and a truck. The railroad paid off, and Cahill has since spent much of the money.

Then, in March, the railroad asked for reconsideration. Last Monday the court, again by a 5-4 vote, reversed itself and sent the case back to a U. S. circuit court.

Official Visit To France

LONDON, May 15 (AP)—The Warsaw radio announced tonight that Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz will make an official visit to France. The date has not been set.

Federal Atom Power Plant Disaster Insurance Urged

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission urged Congress today to provide for government insurance against the remote chance of a nuclear power plant disaster—which it said could cause some 50 deaths and 200 million dollars damage.

AEC witnesses told the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee that the government should insure against the "mathematical possibility" of a nuclear plant running wild, because the financial burden would be too great for private insurance firms.

They emphasized that the chance of a serious accident befalling a commercial power reactor is "extremely remote." But, as Chairman G. Rogers McCullough of AEC's Committee on Reactor Safeguards noted:

"Even such well-known things as railroad trails break, turbine shafts shatter, trolley wheels come off and locomotive braking systems fail."

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said private insurance companies will provide up to 65 million dollars in liability coverage for each commercial atomic power plant—a sum well below the possible loss that could result from a serious accident.

To bridge the gap, AEC suggested that Congress provide for additional government protection to companies building nuclear power plant under government license and their suppliers.

51 Nuns, Two Priests Listed Dead, Missing

Flaming Jet Plunges Into Building Near Ottawa, Explodes

OTTAWA, May 15 (AP)—Fifty-one Roman Catholic nuns and two priests died or were listed as missing tonight after a plane believed to be a Royal Canadian Air Force jet fighter crashed in flames into a convent at the Riverside community of Orleans, about seven miles east of here.

The pilot of the plane also was believed to have died in the crash.

An RCAF jet fighter was seen in the area shortly before the flaming plane rammed the three-story brick building on the banks of the Ottawa River. A tremendous explosion followed the crash and the million-dollar structure demolished.

One priest's body was found beside the convent building and another died in an Ottawa hospital about three hours after the crash.

17 Nuns Escape

Seventeen nuns were reported to have escaped.

The convent, known as the Ville St. Louis, was operated by the Grey Nuns of the Cross as a convalescent home.

One nun was hospitalized in Eastview, Ont., with a back injury and several others were reported in serious condition in Ottawa General Hospital.

The other survivors were brought by car to their order's mother house in Ottawa.

The nuns had all been in bed two hours when the crash occurred at 10:15 p.m. The convent was used as a convalescent hospital for the order and about 20 of its inmates were recuperating from operations.

Mrs. Marie Flora, who lives nearby, said the plane swooped over her home in flames and crashed into the three-story convent building between the second and top floors. There was a big explosion.

"They never had a chance," she said.

Brick Building Demolished

Another report said the plane first hit the chapel adjoining the convent building, then ploughed on into the main building.

Firemen were rushed to the scene from the RCAF air station at Rockliffe, from Ottawa and Eastview, but the brick building—valued at about one million dollars—was reported demolished.

Three neighbors who were among the first outsiders to reach the scene pulled away the body of the dead priest. He had jumped from the second floor, his clothing in flames.

One of the neighbors, Vern Ayhart, said he smashed in a window-screen and helped pull out two of the surviving nuns.

"I can hear the screams yet," he said two hours later.

Army and private ambulances were organized into a shuttle service between the convent and Ottawa.

Graham Loses Ground In Plea

DENVER, May 15 (AP)—John Gilbert Graham, convicted of committing murder by blowing up an airliner, lost ground today in his stubborn demand that he be executed as soon as possible.

"I don't want any part of an appeal, declared the stolid Graham before the judge who sentenced him to die in Colorado's gas chamber during the week of Aug. 26 for which 44 passengers were killed.

But Judge Joseph M. McDonald, who had sentenced him, ordered the court reporter and others to ask the Colorado Supreme Court what to do.

This order, unprecedented in Colorado court history, "amounts to an appeal for all practical purposes," said a defense attorney.

Uncle Sam's Industry Assets Near 12 Billion

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The Budget Bureau reported today the government is operating 19,771 commercial and industrial activities producing goods or services for its own use. Capital assets of these installations were set at $11,863,990,569.

Besides making such things as guns, tanks and ships, the report showed the government also is engaged in such activities as:

Making of ladies' underwear and other clothing at prisons and hospitals as a part of rehabilitation and therapy, logging operations, printing and engraving, operation of farms and experimental and rehabilitation work, mining to develop improved mining methods, maintenance of storage facilities, making of rubber products, operating shoe repair and barber shops, transportation, communications and even a funeral service through the Veterans Administration.

Percival F. Brundage, Budget Bureau director, said the inventory is "another step in the administration's long term program to eliminate unnecessary government competition with our free enterprise system."

At least 32 government agencies and departments have been working since January, 1955 to prepare the inventory, described as the first on a governmentwide basis showing federal activities in producing goods and services for its own use.

The bureau said the survey was made in line with an objective laid down by President Eisenhower early in his administration to turn over to private enterprise or to state and local governments such activities as could be handled more efficiently that way.

The Budget Bureau said the next step in the program will be for the departments or agencies to evaluate their activities and take steps to end them if that is considered advisable.

Harriman Remains 'Inactive Candidate'

BUTTE, Mont., May 15 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who has been talking and acting like a presidential candidate during a swing through the Rocky Mountain states, said today he still considers himself an "inactive candidate."

He told Democratic leaders of Montana and Wyoming he would be happy to have the support of their delegations at the Democratic National Convention.

Asked if that didn't mean he was ending his self-described "inactive" role, Harriman insisted his status was unchanged.

Harriman said the New York delegation would place his name before the convention and not as a favorite son.

Naturalized U.S. Citizen Admits Costa Rican Plot

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 15 (AP) — Government officials announced today that a naturalized U. S. citizen has been arrested here after confessing a plot to kill President Jose Figueres and other top government and church leaders.

The man arrested was identified as Abraham Perry Baker, a native of Honduras. Authorities here said he was believed to have a police record in Los Angeles, Calif.

Baker was taken into custody Sunday and is being held at a San Jose police station. The authorities did not attach much importance to his confessed plot, calling it fantastic and childish.

This was the account they gave:

Baker came to San Jose from Nicaragua, getting in touch with a Honduran friend here.

Arrested and questioned, he said he had planned to kill Figueres, Vice President Blanco Cervantes, ex-President Otillo Ulate Blanco, Roman Catholic Archbishop Ruben Odio Herrera, and other important men.

Baker said he planned to disguise himself as a Catholic priest, visit the archbishop on the pretext of revealing important information, and ask the prelate to have the others present.

No reason for such an assassination plot was disclosed. Baker said he had discussed it with ex-President Teodoro Picado, now living in Managua, and with Teodoro Picado Jr. in Los Angeles. Young Picado led an unsuccessful invasion of Costa Rica in January, 1955.

Three Of Five Jail Escapees Captured

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP)—Three youths who overpowered an elderly Howard County jailer and escaped were back behind bars tonight but two young women who got away from the woman's reformatory at Jessup have not been captured.

There was no connection between the two jail breaks, one at Ellicott City today, the other at Jessup, last night.

Still at large and the object of a 14-state police alarm were Beverly Wilson, 20-year-old wife of a bank robber and herself serving not more than eight years for her part in the $30,000 of a Baltimore bank two years ago, and Patricia Ann Linton, 17, serving two years for false pretense by using a fake charg-a-plate in a downtown Baltimore department store.

The three youths who escaped from the Howard County jail in Ellicott City and were recaptured were identified as Thomas O'Keefe, 18, Jerry Knisely, 22, and William Murray, 16, all of Savage.

"Positive Action" To End Fear Urged By Hammarskjold

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., May 15 (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold, United Nations secretary general, called today for "positive action. . . to kill the fear which is eating our world like a cancer."

Hammarskjold, just back from the Middle East, declared he spoke "from some very concrete recent experiences."

"It is when we all play safe that we create a world of the utmost insecurity," he said. "It is when we all play safe that fatality will lead us to our doom. It is in the dark shade of courage alone that the spell can be broken."

Hammarskjold was the key speaker at colonial Williamsburg's celebration of the 180th anniversary of the Virginia Convention.

Youth Is Beaten After Boarding Annapolis Bus

ANNAPOLIS, May 15 (AP) — An 18-year-old North Carolinian, who had been considering entering St. John's College here, was severely beaten aboard a bus last night.

James Anthony Womack, a son of Dr. and Mrs. Nathan E. Womack of Chapel Hill, N. C., suffered a broken nose, a slight concussion and numerous cuts and bruises by assailants believed to be a group of juveniles.

He was attacked on a bus at the Baltimore and Annapolis Railroad Co. terminal here. The terminal offices were closed for the night.

The driver of the bus was not present at the time since the bus was not due to depart for Baltimore for some time. No one, including the victim, could give an apparent reason for the attack.

Young Womack came here Sunday and spent yesterday attending classes at the college, according to school officials. After a seminar which ended at 10 p.m. the youth boarded the bus for the return to New York, where he has been working.

He remembers only that there was an elderly man asleep in the rear of the bus, and he thinks several people got on a few minutes later.

James M. Tolbert, the college's director of admissions, said it seems the people told Womack to "get off." Womack could not identify them, but believes they were teen-age boys.

A St. John's student found Womack staggering across the campus about 11:30 p.m.

Case Of Missing Scotts Takes On Added Mystery

LOS ANGELES, May 15 (AP)—The puzzling case of the vanishing Scotts today took its place as one of the most intriguing police stories in this city's history.

Just a year ago tomorrow Mrs. Evelyn T. Scott, 63, a wealthy, attractive socialite with a keen enjoyment of the social whirl, dropped from sight.

Today her husband, L. Ewing Scott, 59, a tall, distinguished investment counselor, was listed officially as missing when he failed to appear for arraignment on charges connected with his wife's disappearance.

A manhunt spreading across the nation and into Mexico has been launched for Scott.

Although no one has seen Mrs. Scott for a year now, her disappearance did not come to public attention until two months ago when a document was filed in Superior Court.

It was a petition entered by Mrs. Scott's brother, E. Raymond Throsby, asking that he be appointed trustee of his sister's estate, estimated at $600,000. Buried in the legal terminology was the kernel of mystery that has since sprouted so vigorously.

His sister's absence, said Throsby, had not been satisfactorily explained by Scott.

Filing of the petition touched off an investigation that disclosed, among other things, that Scott has offered several different explanations of what happened to his wife.

To police, he said that his wife was given to frequent and unexplained absences and that, was why he did not become alarmed when she suddenly vanished from their $75,000 home on May 16, 1955, after sending him on a shopping trip.

He still loves her and hopes she will return, he told them.

But friends of the popular, party-loving Mrs. Scott informed police that they had been told she had fallen ill and been placed in a sanitarium, that she had become an alcoholic, or that she had left him after a family fight, police learned.

Scott vanished shortly after the county grand jury indicted him on 13 counts of forgery and grand theft based on his handling of his missing wife's estate. The investigation is continuing with more witnesses to be examined May 29.

Mrs. McKeldin Finds All's Well That Ends Well

ANNAPOLIS, May 15 (AP)—What could be more embarrassing than for your wife to invite 40 ladies to go riding on your yacht which can't be found at the appointed time or place?

Mrs. McKeldin, wife of Maryland's governor, found out just how embarrassing it was today, but the governor quickly made amends.

Forty ladies of the Homeland Garden Club in Baltimore were visiting Mrs. McKeldin and were scheduled to take a cruise on the State yacht Potomac.

But when the ladies reached the dock the yacht was not there and they could plainly see it wasn't on its way.

Mrs. McKeldin called the governor. The governor called John P. Tawes, chief of the Department of Tidewater Fisheries which is responsible for the yacht.

The yacht, Tawes informed the governor, was still tied up at its berth in Cambridge, about 35 miles—as the fish swims—down and across Chesapeake Bay.

Another telephone call brought a large air-conditioned bus with comfortable cushions to the dock and two hours later, the garden clubbers and Mrs. McKeldin boarded the yacht in Cambridge.

Woodmen of the World Now Offers

FREE TREATMENT NEAR HOME

for members afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis

In step with modern medicine, Woodmen of the World announces a new, better plan for treatment of its tuberculous members. Afflicted members with a year or more of membership will now receive free treatment at nationally recognized hospitals near their homes, or as outpatients if this is authorized.

Since 1923, the Society has provided free treatment to more than 4,900 members at its own hospital, which was closed May 1 in favor of the new plan. The new setup, adopted after thorough study, offers greater advantages.

Climate is not now considered a major factor in TB treatment. The National Tuberculosis Association says: "The best place for most patients to go for treatment is the hospital near home." The Society thus keeps pace with modern medicine with greater benefit to its members.

There are many other fraternal benefits enjoyed by Woodmen along with the unexcelled life insurance protection the Society provides at cost. Ask a representative listed below to help you select the Woodmen life insurance certificate that best meets your needs.

Political Conventioneers Hope To Curb Horseplay To Spare Video Audience

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Officials of both major political parties said today they hope to run off this year's national conventions with a minimum of horseplay and hokum.

They want to cut down on the incredible number of speeches, and their interminable length.

They wanted to put some limits on the manufactured mass frenzy that seizes a convention after every nominating speech.

They want to abolish the public polling of individuals in state delegations.

All these, you understand, are hopes.

Four years ago, in similar attacks of hopefulness, both parties announced that because television time was precious every meeting would start on the dot.

The result: some meetings got airborne more than an hour late, and not one got away on time. All in all, plumb distressing.

But the Democratic National committeewoman from California, Mrs. Clara Shirpser, has told Rep. Jimmy Roosevelt (D-Calif) that she will try to get the Democratic convention to:

1. Limit demonstrations to 15 minutes, and bar parading in the aisles.

2. Invite each candidate who gets 15 per cent of the vote on the first ballot to appear in person and address the convention.

"It seems to me," Roosevelt told the House, "that this suggestion has a great many advantages and few, if any, disadvantages."

Well, a check at both headquarters shows that nobody thinks the parties will go as far as Mrs. Shirpser, especially in inviting in the candidates.

As things now line up, the Republicans don't look as if they will be oversupplied with candidates, and everyone knows what Dwight D. Eisenhower looks like.

Quantitatively at least, the Democrats should be better off, but the thought of having a batch of leaders in for a speech didn't have much appeal to some. "Might be considered too theatrical," one Democrat said.

One plan that should meet with everyone's approval: Leaders in both parties are considering a scheme to send a clerk down to count a state delegation whenever an individual poll is demanded. While the clerk is counting, the rollcall of states would continue.

Here's a random bit of dialogue from the 1952 democratic convention, just to refresh your memory:

Reading clerk: "Rea Cress" (a delegate from Junction City, Kansas).

Cress: "Rea Cress, 4th district, casts one vote for Alben Barkley."

Clerk: "Rea Cress, one vote for Barkley."

A few hours of this, and even a sophisticated television viewer would begin to yearn for Howdy Doody, or possibly the midnight class B movie.

Fan Injured By Foul Ball Denied Damages

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP) — A baseball fan injured by a foul ball at a Baltimore Orioles game in 1954 was denied damages yesterday by a judge who said the spectator had assumed the risk of injury when he went to the stadium.

"There was nothing extraordinary or unusual in what occurred," Judge John T. Tucker said in a written opinion.

"In fact, it was clearly ordinary and usual, for the foul ball came directly from the bat of a batter, said to be the famous Ted Williams, in the batter's box during the course of the scheduled game."

John H. Walsh, an Internal Revenue agent, filed the $10,000 damage suit. A Superior Court jury failed to reach a verdict last March 29 and Tucker, who had presided at the trial, had deferred ruling on the ball club's request for a directed verdict.

Financier Gives Own Verdict As "Guilty"

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP) — A financier who led the law on a chase around the world before he was caught in London gave his own verdict on himself yesterday —"guilty" as a swindler.

John Maxwell Seaforth Gray, 44, made the plea before General Sessions Judge Ambrose J. Haddock to two grand larceny counts of a 15-count indictment.

A stock operator, the Australian born Gray was accused with Robert J. Morman of stealing $149,-732 from the Lawyers Mortgage and Title Co. of which they were vice presidents.

Morman still is being sought.

Gray could get from 7½ to 30 years in prison on his plea. Sentencing was set for June 14.

'Mother Of Year' Awards Growing More Numerous

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Years, like children, have their mothers.

In fact, along about this time, you might get the impression there are about as many "mothers of the year"—as children.

Ever since the Mother's Day season came in sight, filial devotion has been cropping out all over in "mother of the year" awards.

Clubs, church groups, philanthropic organization—even Army outfits—have been honoring their model mothers.

The biggest project is that of the American Mothers Committee, Inc., each of whose 52 chapters choose their paragons of motherhood.

Each state—and Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Washington, D.C. —all have a "mother of the year."

From among these, Mrs. Jane Maxwell Pritchard of Detroit was given the national title.

Church groups also doffed their hats to mother. The Family life bureau of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, named Mrs. Maria Trapp, Stowe, Vt., as "Catholic Mother of the Year." Numerous dioceses had their own choices.

The Army base at Ft. Dix, N. J., singled out Mrs. J. A. Ruppel of Maspeth, N. Y., as the Ft. Dix Mother of the Year.

In Washington, D. C., the local branch of the Variety Club, the theatrical industry's service organization, gave the same title to Mrs. Earl Warren, wife of the Supreme Court justice.

All of this goes back to the days just after the Civil War, when a West Virginia mother, Anna Reeves Jarvis, upset at the idea of family warring against family, organized "Mother's Friendship Day."

This grew into Mother's Day, which Congress in 1914 officially set aside as the second Sunday in May. All of which has deeper roots in Greek and Roman mythology—which gave a high place to mother goddesses.

SORROWFUL END—Firemen have just given up futile resuscitation efforts as Mrs. Robert Forz (back to camera) clutches the lifeless body of her 2½-year-old son, Raymond. The boy fell into the Mississippi river at St. Paul, Minn., and drowned. Italian President Gronchi Unveils Pinocchio Statue

COLLOLI, Italy, May 15 (AP)—The President of Italy yesterday dedicated a statue of a little boy with a long nose-the immortal Pinocchio.

Serious voices and lilting music echoed in the green hills of Tuscany as this home town of the mischevious puppet celebrated its greatest day.

Thirty thousand people lined the streets. Some were lucky enough to see the unveiling of the angular bronze memorial, built with contributions from children of 26 nations.

President Giovanni Gronchi, six members of Parliament and many other officials came for the dedication.

All this was because 74 years ago an unemployed journalist named Carlo Lorenzini scribbled the story of a wooden boy, carved by a cabinetmaker. The boy's nose grew ever time he told a lie.

Lorenzini wrote Pinocchio's story under the pseudonym Collodi in honor of his home town.

Five years ago Mayor Rolando Anzillotti of Pescia, the nearest big town whose administration also takes in Collodi, decided Pinocchio and his author should be honored with a memorial.

The funds should come, he decided, not only from Italian children and the Italian government, but from children the world over.

So the mayor, who once taught English in Illinois Wesleyan University and married an American girl, began his campaign. He promised the voters here the memorial if he won.

American children contributed more than $1,000. In return each donor got a "certificate of the friends of Pinocchio" permitting the holder to tell one little lie without having his nose grow.

Late Songwriter's Will Is Contested

LOS ANGELES, May 15 (AP)—A son of Lew Porter has filed a Superior Court suit contesting the will of the late songwriter who composed, among others, "Beautiful Ohio."

Mitchell Lewis Tableporter contended his father was of unsound mind when he willed his entire estate of Tableporter's half-brother, Franklyn Jacques Tableporter.

The will, dated March 3, 1955, also leaves Franklyn Tableporter any future royalties from Porter's songs.

Superior Judge Clyde C. Triplett set June 14 for trial.

Talk On Turkey, Poem Feature AAUW Program

Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch, AAUW installed two officers, announced its poetry contest winners and entertained the state president at its anniversary luncheon Saturday at Anton's Big Savage Inn. Mrs. William A. Carlson of Istanbul, Turkey, and Washington, was guest speaker. Mrs. H. Reford Aldridge was installed as vice president, and Mrs. Sidney Green, treasurer. Miss Gertrude Williams officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Mrs. Harold Lancaster, chairman of the Nominating committee.

Rose Marie Houck, a junior at Mt. Savage High School, was announced first place winner in the poetry contest, sponsored by the Education Study Group of the branch for all area high schools. Her poem was entitled "Fall Overture"; second was Shirley Snyder, junior at Valley High, with "A Tree"; and third, Roberta Lashley, junior at Mt. Savage High, "The Penniless Millionaire." The winning poem was read by Miss Kathleen Wolfe.

Mrs. Robert W. King, Bethesda, state president, spoke briefly in reference to the convention next April with Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch as hostess.

"The Status of Women in Turkey" was the topic of the talk by Mrs. Carlson, who was introduced by Miss Jane Grindel. Briefly tracing the Turkish history to the Ottoman Empire, from which the present country has been formed, she explained that in 1923 the new Turkish republic became a reality with a centralized government, and stressed Ataturk was the outstanding person in government. It was he who felt the country should be Westernized. It has one of the most modern civil codes in the world, she said, explaining it is patterned after the Swedish civil code. Its penal code is patterned after that of Italy. Before the republic, Moslem law controlled everything.

The civil code gives a woman many rights. She keeps her own property when she marries and if she works, she keeps her income, unless she has made a formal contract with her husband. However she must have her husband's permission to work. There is no discrimination in the field of work or pay. When one parent dies three fourths of the estate goes to the children and must be equally divided. Divorce is recognized by law and widely accepted, although Moslems frown upon it. Since 1930 women had partial vote, and in 1935 received complete franchise. The speaker insisted all reforms come from Ataturk's wisdom.

Speaking of education, Mrs. Carlson said the constitution requires elementary education for everyone, and it is free. There are only two big state universities, Istanbul and Ankara, although there are some technical schools, higher than high schools but not universities. In the elementary school and universities there is coeducation, but high schools are separate. Contrasting the rural areas and cities, the speaker said the former is primitive and old and the latter new and progressive. Although the fez and veil are forbidden by law, both are worn in the rural areas. Mrs. Carlson, a native of Istanbul and a graduate of the university law school there, said Turkey is the only country to have women in a supreme court, and now has two.

Gifts of appreciation were presented to Mrs. King and Mrs. Carlson on behalf of the club. Other guests introduced were Mrs. Howard Tolson, Miss Jean Camper, Cumberland Branch; Miss Joyce Warnick, Miss Larna Cutter, students at the college and recipients of the branch's scholarship awards.

The spring motif was carried out in the decorations of tulips and snapdragons, green and white place cards and yellow boutonnieres. Covers were laid for 53.

Honor Mothers

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Myrtle Reed, the oldest mother present; and Mrs. Harry Tillard, the youngest, at the annual Mother's Day dinner of the Loyal Daughters Bible Class of Kingsley Methodist Church. The party was held in the church social room.

Mrs. Jacob Minke gave a reading entitled, "A Mother's Gift to Her Children." Several vocal selections were presented by Stanley Leasure, with Miss Annetta Yates at the piano. Rev. Jacob Snyder offered prayer.

Others present were Mrs. Jacob Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shade, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Lillard, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bolinger, Jacob Minke, Harry Tillard, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. J. R. Dorn, Mrs. Raymond Curry, Mrs. H. E. Messman, Mrs. H. J. Gurley, Mrs. Roy Robinette, Mrs. Herman Curry, Mrs. T. H. Wood, Mrs. C. A. Weigal, Mrs. S. A. Nichols, Mrs. Bertie Hamilton, Mrs. Hazel Shade, Mrs. Ethel Simmons, Linda Underdonk, Bonnie Swan, Virginia Lillard, Jeanne Lillard and Kenneth Leasure.

Contract Is Let For Glenville College Project

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 15 (AP)—The West Virginia Board of Education awarded a $260,298 contract yesterday to Raymond Holland Corp. of Ripley for construction of a new dining hall and student union at Glenville State College.

The action followed adoption by the board of a resolution formalizing sale of $130,000 worth of revenue bonds, in partial financing of the structure, to Baker, Watts and Co. of Baltimore.

That firm submitted a bid yesterday including a total interest cost of $64,800 on the bonds over a 26-year period, with an average interest rate of 3.692 per cent.

In other major action, the board:

1. Denied Dean of Women Valborg E. Fletty of Shepherd College a hearing on a decision made at a meeting last month not to rehire her for the next school term.

2. Adopted a multiple list of textbooks in 11 required and four optional subjects taught in the state's elementary schools in the first such action under a new West Virginia statute.

3. Approved the awarding of four-year, tuition-only scholarships to state colleges to 12 district winners in the American Legion's annual statewide oratorical contests.

Dean Fletty was not re-employed at the board's April meeting. Shepherd President O. S. Ikenberry recommended that her employment be terminated at the end of a three-year probationary period she now is completing.

A discussion at the board session brought the general sentiment that nothing could be accomplished by granting the hearing, which Dean Fletty had requested.

It was brought out, among other things, that she did not take advantage of an opportunity she had to be heard before the board action in April.

An administration decision earlier this year not to renew for another year the probationary contract of the dean brought a demonstration on the Shepherd campus.

Ikenberry was hanged in effigy, and placards reading "Ike Must Go" and "Fight, Fletty, Fight" were waved by students. Ikenberry later told the board at the April 9 meeting that all again was quiet on the campus.

HELD FOR MURDER—John L. McKiernan, 15-year-old schoolboy, wipes away a tear as he testifies before a Chicago coroner's jury regarding the stabbing to death of his mother, Johnnie Louise McKiernan, 39. The youth told police he stabbed his mother with a butcher knife because he wanted her car "and I knew she wouldn't give it to me." The jury recommended John be held to the grand jury on a charge of murder. (AP Photofax)

Super Sensitive Burglar Alarm

INDIANAPOLIS, May 15 (AP) — The opening of a new branch of the Indiana National Bank yesterday showed officials they have a sensitive burglar alarm. Perhaps too sensitive.

The doors had no sooner opened for business than the burglar alarm started clanging.

Police who rushed to the scene said the supersensitive alarm system might have been set off by somebody breathing too hard.

And here you see it in a food freezer-refrigerator—also a masterpiece in metal, and a marvel of mechanical skill.

Especially this year, General Motors designers have put Frigidaire in a world of its own, when it comes to convenience and beauty and freshness of styling.

Imagine having your refrigerator shelves track quietly out on nylon wheels—to display all their contents before your hand and eye! Imagine ice cubes that shower down at the push of an upside-down tray in a clever rack—ready for use in a sub-zero "ice-catcher."

Imagine having your perfectly conditioned vegetable supply in a Picture Window Hydrator, so you can see everything at a glance.

And a toe-touch opens the door of the freezer section, 168 pounds big, where roll-out baskets put everything at your finger tips.

Come see all the reasons why Frigidaire Dealers are now holding "20 millionth" celebrations. There's nothing quite like this year's beauties anywhere.

Defense Will Get Evidence In Bank Case

A motion of discovery has been granted counsel for Thomas O. McGeady, former local bank teller who is to be tried in a term of U. S. District Court in the Allegany County Court House starting Monday, June 11, on charges of embezzlement of funds from the First National Bank.

Judge Watkins granted the motion which allows the defense counsel to be shown the evidence upon which the government has based its case against McGeady.

Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen of the U. S. District Court for Maryland has announced the case will be tried in Cumberland, the first Federal court session to be held here since 1937.

The trial, which is expected to run for a full week, will have the government being represented by Assistant U. S. Attorneys Martin A. Ferris and John H. Somerville.

Counsel for the defendant is William C. Walsh and William Walsh of this city, and Theodore C. Waters Jr., of Baltimore.

Wilfred W. Butschky, clerk of the Federal Court, will precede the court to Cumberland. He will be here Monday, May 28, and Tuesday, May 29, to draw and organize a petit jury.

He will be assisted by Franklin H. Ankeney, this city, federal jury commissioner for this area.

McGeady was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury in Baltimore in February.

Henry Street Parking Lot Is Being Planned

A block of old brick row houses on Henry Street purchased by the Goodfellow Realty and Storage Company will be razed.

D. Clifford Goodfellow, of the real estate and warehouse firm, said the five houses will be torn down to provide a better entrance to the company's three story brick warehouse which is in the rear of these Henry Street properties.

In addition to the bigger entrance, a parking lot with space for 25 autos will be provided on the site of the old buildings.

The property, purchased from Charles and Theresa Nevy, runs from the corner of Hoffman Alley, 116 feet to the corner of No. 119 Henry Street property. The lot is 104 feet deep, Goodfellow said.

The tract of land, "Mohican Resurveyed" on the old Stump Farm along Town Creek between the Cardinal Club and the South Cumberland Rod and Gun Club, figured in three deeds recorded in the office of the clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Floyd G. and Ruth Rinehart transferred a one-third interest in certain lots on the tract to Arthur F. Elfritz and Osa O. Brown.

Arthur F. and Rita V. Elfritz sold all their interests in "Mohican Resurveyed," which covered about 9/10 of an acre.

The final deed had Osa O. and Rita Brown transferring ownership of a parcel of land on Uhl Highway a part of the same tract, to Harry H. and Mary M. Morris.

The month of July was called Quintilis Julius by the Romans, in memory of Julius Caesar.

Four Permits Are Issued By Liquor Board

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners has issued a club liquor license and three beer permits.

Ray M. Sander, Leo F. Dean and Charles Pinto were granted a beer, wine and liquor license for the Maplehurst Country Club, Inc., in Frostburg. This is a new organization only recently formed which will operate a golf course and club house.

An off sale beer license was granted Helen E. Goss for the Goss Dairy Store, 300 Maryland Avenue. The permit had been held by Vera V. Boone.

John E. Harder was granted a Class D beer and wine permit for Ned's Lunch Bar in Mt. Savage. Vera K. Hackett, trading as Percy's Place, 305 Baltimore Avenue, was granted a Class D beer license. It was formerly licensed to Amanda Percy.

The board has ordered an additional supply of cards which must be displayed in licensed premises. The cards issue a warning to teenagers who misrepresent their age in attempting to purchase alcoholic beverages. The other sign warns against the consumption or display of liquor on premises which have only a beer license.

Election Cost Meet Sought

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has announced it would seek a meeting Friday with members of the Election Board at which expenses of the recent primary balloting would be discussed.

The commissioners have received additional bills for the primary voting. They included an item of $30.40 for Alvin Gentry, a messenger for the board, who was paid the money for preparing voting machines used in demonstrations and for the May 5 primary. The item included 210 miles at eight cents per mile for car mileage.

Reatus L. Spiker, who is a custodian of machines for the board, received $44.80 for conducting a school of instruction for election officials. He received pay for 560 miles at eight cents a mile.

A third bill was for $88 for the canvass of the voting in the primary. William A. Wilson, Matthew J. Mullaney, Victor M. Hebb and Edward P. Kaylor each received $22 for their work in making the canvass last Thursday night.

Soap was believed to have been discovered by the Gauls about 77 A. D.

Former Local Woman 'Mother Of The Year'

Mrs. Mabel Tweedale, Philadelphia, former resident, has been selected as the Greater Kensington "Mother Of The Year."

Mrs. Tweedale is a daughter of James S. Smith, 127 Oak Street. She is the mother of three children, Mrs. Rosalie Benner, Baltimore, and William and Robert Tweedale Jr., both of Philadelphia.

Mother Of Three Ordered Held Without Bail In Slaying Of Her Soldier-Husband

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP)—Mrs. Victoria Johnson, 35-year-old mother of three children, was ordered held without bail today by U.S. Commissioner Ernest Volkart in the slaying of her husband, Army 1st Lt. Eugene C. Johnson, Jr.

Volkart postponed a scheduled preliminary until Thursday because Mrs. Johnson was not represented by an attorney and broke down at the start of today's hearing.

Johnson, 30, from Princeton, W. Va., was shot five times in the head and back as he sat behind the wheel of his car at the Edgewood Chemical Center northeast of here, the FBI said.

Army authorities said Mrs. Johnson was on the back seat. After the shots were fired, they said, Mrs. Johnson stepped from the car and handed a nine-millimeter automatic pistol to a bystander, then waited until the arrival of military police.

As Volkart read the charge that she caused her husband's death by inflicting fatal pistol wounds, Mrs. Johnson broke down, sobbing, "Oh, no. I love him! I love him!"

She was led to a chair in the courtroom where she struggled to regain her control.

Back before Valkart, she broke down again, and he reset the hearing for Thursday.

Mrs. Johnson had been turned over to the FBI, since the death occurred on government property, and was kept overnight at the Harford County jail at Bel Air pending her scheduled hearing.

Investigators said the couple lived on the post, where Johnson was housing and billeting officer, with their 4-year-old daughter and two of Mrs. Johnson's daughters by a previous marriage.

"Tardy" Contractor Penalty Is Sought

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP) — The Board of Public Works is trying to find a way to penalize contractors who don't finish their jobs in the time the contract stipulates.

The board instructed James J. O'Donnell, director of the Department of Public Improvements, to confer with the attorney general to determine what action can be taken.

O'Donnell complained of a "growing tendency of a number of contractors performing State work not to live up to their obligations in regard to completing projects within the time specified in their contracts."

"In many cases," he said, "because of the absence of provisions for liquidated damages, and the further absence of any punitive measures, there has been little or nothing that could be accomplished to help speed up the completion of the various projects..."

13 Children Eat Copper Sulphate Crystal 'Candy'

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP)—Thirteen fifth and sixth grade children from a Baltimore County school were rushed to Johns Hopkins Hospital today after it was learned that they had eaten copper sulphate crystals.

Mrs. Ruth Guyton, principal of Upper Falls School at Perry Hall, said the crystals had been passed around in a school bus as candy.

The incident was discovered, Mrs. Guyton said, after one girl became ill in school. The children were taken to the hospital for treatment of possible copper sulphate poisoning on advice of a physician.

At the hospital, none appeared seriously ill and all were sent back to school after treatment.

Chemists described copper sulphate as a "comparative poisonous" substance which could be fatal in heavy doses. In small quantities, however, its effects probably would be limited to gastro - intestinal irritation and vomiting.

Police started an investigation into where the crystals came from. Officer Carroll Smith said it was believed the student got them from a home chemistry set. Preliminary investigation indicated that most of the pupils on the bus only "licked" the crystals as they were passed around the bus.

Man Who Struck Tax Collector Convicted

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP)-Daniel J. McCarthy, 47, of Rockville, was convicted by a Federal Court jury today of using force to try to keep a tax collector from carrying out his duties. In this case, his duty was to confiscate McCarthy's car.

Judge W. Calvin Chesnut did not pass sentence immediately.

McCarthy admitted while on the stand yesterday that he hit Edward W. Phelps, a Federal tax agent, in the mouth when he and another agent came to his home to seize his car for nonpayment of income taxes.

McCarthy said he was worried about a sick child. He said he asked the agents how he could take the sick child to a doctor without a car. He quoted them that "that was his problem. . . he could call a taxi."

He lost his head then, he said, and hit Phelps in the mouth.

Phelps testified the blow bloodied his lip and loosened a tooth. He said also that McCarthy threatened to shoot the agents. McCarthy denied threatening to shoot them.

The Killer's Days May Be Numbered

A new series of wonder drugs is receiving wide acclaim among the medical fraternity for its initial success in prolonging life of seriously-ridden cancer patients. Known as the "anti-metabolities," these drugs act toward cancer much the same as insulin does to diabetes. While they do not cure the disease, they immobilize action in cancerous cells, thus allowing the patient to live with the ailment.

As in any drug not yet perfected, the "anti-metabolities" leave much to be desired. They are effective in only certain types of cancer cells and even then are able to refrain the growth for usually no more than two years. After this period, the cells seem to be able to overcome the effect of the drug.

One patient treated with these drugs, a nine-year-old Boston boy, has evoked great admiration and inquisitiveness from his doctors by living for six and one-half years with acute leukemia, an incurable form of the disease. Thanks to aminopterin, one of the new drugs, this boy has managed to live all this time with the disease ever present, but remaining dormant.

These drugs work by cutting off the feeding process of the affected cells and thus prevent their growth and spread. What scientists want to know is why the medicine is effective on some cells, but has little or no effect on identical cells. They are also trying to find out how the cells eventually overcome the interference of the drugs.

This latter problem is what makes the Boston case so significant. Thus far the diseased cells in the boy's body hav not been able to overcome the effect of the drug. The disease is still present but not active, the lad has had a normal growth, and to all outward appearances he is no different from any other boy his age.

Inch by inch science is approaching the answer to cancer. So close are researchers coming to it that each new development causes the nation to hold its breath in anticipation. Some day the door to success will open and it may be that solving the perplexing questions of such cases as the Boston boy will provide the key.

These Days

Yanks Go Home

It is not amusing, for a taxpayer, to hear someone say, someone from most any country, that it would be preferable if the United States left that country. Of course, we are not really in any country, except that we helped to defend it during the war, financed its reconstruction immediately after the war, and have continued to give it one or another kind of aid since. But we have taken no territory nor have we subordinated any government to ourselves.

So, we see signs, "Yanks Go Home" and we say that the Commies put them up. But suppose it was not the Commies who put up the signs, "Yanks Go Home!" Suppose most of the citizens of a country, let us say like France, really want us to remove ourselves, our aid, our standard of living, our conferences, air bases, NATO and everything else so that they might live their own lives as they have done for centuries with wars coming upon them quite often, most of which they lose but none of which obliterate them. I use France as an example. It might be Italy. Even little Iceland is now telling us to clear out.

How do we know that the people want our aid or want us to clear out? How do we know that the miserable signs, "Yanks Go Home!" are not really put up by anti-Russian, anti-American neutrals who want no part of great issues but prefer to live out their lives as small people, inconspicuous, unimportant but altogether contented?

The wave of neutralism in the world is usually attributed to our failure in the Korean War. After such a failure every nation had to reconsider its position. If Red China could defeat the United States, anything could happen, and why take big risks? Furthermore, for the Asiatics our treatment of Chiang Kai-shek indicated a coldly logical objectivity which for most nations is too frigid. Then the Dutch feel that we squeezed them out of the Dutch East Indies (Indonesia) and the French out of French Indochina (Vietnam) and Morocco. So many countries want to play safe and be neutral.

Besides, there are the bombs. Whoever uses the bomb first, who can tell who will get hurt most? When it was believed that only the United States had the bomb, we had real allies. But now, Soviet Russia claims to have as much bomb as we have. In fact, our own generals and admirals seeking appropriations, each for his own service, in a unified Defense Department which is torn by increasing jealousy, continue to tell the world how much better the Russians are doing than we are. Their hope is to get bigger appropriations; the end result is to frighten the American people and to make them wonder what has been done with all the billions that have already been spent on bombs and airplanes and submarines and all sorts of things.

And more and more the taxpayer wonders how long he will continue to have to pay crushing taxes to aid the neutrals and the weak and backward nations and at the same time finance an armament race in which we fall behind the Russians, as the generals say. Isn't there one piece of good news anywhere for the American taxpayer?

Well, it might be said that peace is cheaper than war and that as long as there is peace, nobody gets killed by war and the costs are kept down. On the other hand, if what the generals say is true, namely that the Russians are beating us in the armament race, it is not at all surprising that the signs go up, "Yanks Go Home!" because nobody likes a loser and most of the world expects us to win.

As a matter of fact, a French youth was explaining to me that the Russians did not steal the bomb from us at all; that the Julius and Ethel Rosenberg story was a fabrication; that there were two ways of making the atom bomb—we made it one way and the Russians the other. Apparently he was taught that in school or read it somewhere. He was not clear as to the source of that account, but was quite stubborn about its accuracy. So, if we are not so wonderful, why should not the Yanks go home?

President Soekarno Of Indonesia Nervous About Trip To Washington

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The welcome accorded foreign dignitaries as they drive down elm-shaded Constitution Avenue was never more important than today when President Eisenhower receives the president of the youngest but third largest republic in the world — Soekarno of Indonesia.

President Soekarno has been a bit nervous about this trip; just as his country has been nervous about the precarious political path it has trod in these days when every Eastern nation is besieged and beleaugured by communism.

Before leaving for Washington, Soekarno went to his birthplace in East Java to ask his mother's blessing on the pilgrimage. And he visited his father's grave in the Jakarta Moslem Cemetery to pray for success in Washington and strengthened friendship with the U.S.A.

It was the U.S.A., as he and other Indonesians well remember, which played such a large part in winning independence for the young republic. The battle cries that inspired the Indonesian revolution against the long colonial rule of the Dutch were similar to those of 1776. Indonesian patriots even featured pictures of George Washington and Thomas Jefferson on banners and postage stamps.

The final coup de grace in winning Indonesian independence occurred when Matty Fox, New York motion picture executive and friend of Indonesia, together with Joseph K. Borkin of Washington persuaded various senators to cut off Marshall Plan funds to the Dutch if those funds were used in the war against Indonesia. Since then, Borkin has sometimes been called by Indonesians "the American father of Indonesian independence." He shares paternity with Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, now retired, who circulated the Senate petition to cut off Dutch funds. That's part of the story behind President Eisenhower's gesture in sending his personal plane all the way to Hawaii this week to bring the president of one of the key republics of the Far East to Washington.

Texas or U.S.A.?

Senator Lyndon Johnson has come back to Washington with new stature, even if his office staff did have to enlist elevator operators and hired help from the Capitol building to get a welcoming crowd at the airport.

He is also full of fight, and when Lyndon fights for the U.S.A. rather than just the State of Texas he is superb. Its when he forgets that Texas joined the United States and figures that the United States joined Texas that he gets into trouble.

Lyndon's first test over which comes first, the United States or Texas, faces him immediately, with the appointment of a senator to fill the vacancy of the late Senator Barkley on the potent Finance Committee. This is the committee which passes on tax laws and which could change the Texas-prized 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance which puts the oil-gas men ahead of the rest of the nation when it comes to taxes.

The senator with top seniority to take Barkley's place among those who want the post, is Paul Douglas of Illinois, former economics professor of the University of Chicago and the most skilled economist-finance expert in the Senate.

However, Douglas is dead opposed to the tax favors given the oil-gas industry. And hitherto, Johnson has skillfully kept such opponents off the tax-writing Finance Committee. At the moment he has been discreetly sounding out other senators to see if he can find someone with more seniority than Douglas who would like the job.

Seniority is a time-honored custom in the Senate. It was why race-baiting Sen. Eastland of Mississippi became chairman of the Judiciary Committee when all Democrats knew it would lose them votes.

So Senate colleagues are watching to see whether seniority or Texas oil men will rank first when it comes to filling the vacancy on the Finance Committee.

Ike's Candidate

When Secretary of the Interior "Generous Doug" McKay bowed to Ike's wishes and consented to run for the Senate against Wayne Morse in Oregon he had no idea he would have to run twice.

He figured he would run against Morse in Noevmber and that would be all. The boys in the White House who said that Ike was making his sacrifice and that he, McKay should make his too, didn't tell him that he would face a divided Republican party.

However, that is exactly what has happened. McKay has to go through the gruelling ordeal of two elections. One is this week when he faces a primary fight with his fellow Republican, Philip Hitchcock. The next, if he wins, will be against Morse in November.

Most of the Republican candidates in the Oregon Senate race bowed out immediately they learned that McKay was resigning from the Interior Department in order to make the race. However, one man, Hitchcock, stayed in, and has been putting up a terrific battle against the Eisenhower-designated candidate.

It looks like anybody's race on Friday. However, because of loyalty to Eisenhower in GOP ranks, its believed McKay in the end will win.

Indonesian Merry-Go-Round

Indonesian is a major oil source, the second producer of tin in the world and first in the production of rubber, quinine and black pepper—Indonesia has a muli-party political system and a constitution guaranteeing freedom of speech, press, religion and equal rights for men and women of all races. The major parties are Moslem, Nationalist, Socialist, Catholic and Labor . . . Soekarno (he doesn't use a formal first name) is an anti-Communist independent. A former engineer, 54 years old, he was jailed several times by the Dutch for "revolutionary" activity. Under the Dutch, his country had a shocking death and illiteracy rate, but Soekarno has reduced both. . . . A political progressive, Soekarno clings to the five philosophical ("Pantjasila") principles of Indonesia: belief in God, humanitarianism, nationalism, democracy and social justice. Soekarno sums it up: "The belief in God and free choice of religion affirms the democratic principle of freedom of worship. Democracy gains strength and meaning when it is coupled with social justice in economic matters. These two, in turn, are incomplete without a humanitarian regard for the rights and interests of one's fellow man."

Millenium Of World Peace Is Still Long Way Off

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Two views on world peace that might seem at first glance to be diametrically opposite came out of Britain a few days ago.

One was the suggestion from Sir Winston Churchill that maybe in time, if the Russians behave, the Soviet government should be admitted to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The other—expressed by The Mancheser Guardian, a liberal newspaper in England—was that this same organization is "falling apart militarily" and that it is important now for the Western powers to reaffirm the policy of "massive retaliation."

What Sir Winston said was couched in the vaguest of phrases but it may well be that he had his tongue in his cheek when he declared that "we have a new Russia to deal with, and I do not myself see why, if this is so, the new Russia should not join in the spirit of this solemn agreement"—the Atlantic alliance against aggression.

Fatal To Relax

The former prime minister warns, of course, that "it would be fatal for NATO now to relax and let apathy overtake what has been achieved."

But, it will be asked, if the Russians become virtuous and saintly, then what purpose does NATO serve? To resist what potential aggressor would its military organization be maintained? Also, the moment the Soviet Union abandons its aggressor policies and stops abusing the veto power, why isn't the United Nations available to keep the peace of the world and even enforce it, as its charter provides? Doesn't NATO become superfluous in the hour when Soviet Russia becomes a real democracy and overthrows its dictatorship?

Maybe Sir Winston, consciously or unconsciously, was encouraging the many elements inside Soviet Russia and the satellite states who hope some day to oust the present regime in the Kremlin. If he was looking forward to such a day and not as a maneuver that would appease an unrepentant regime which still drips with the blood of 33,000 American boys killed in Korea, then the plan for a universal NATO would seem to make sense.

But in the meantime what? There is danger that preoccupation with dreams which have not yet come true can bring about the very relaxation that Sir Winston cautions against. The most realistic appraisal of this phase of the international situation has come in the editorial in The Manchester Guardian, of May 2, which says in part:

"Much has been said of the non-military questions which the North Atlantic Council will discuss this week, but little has been said of its military business. Mr. Dulles, M. Mollet and Mr. Pearson have talked of broadening NATO into political and economic fields. Nobody, however, has said anything in public about the disagreeable military facts which the Council ought to face.

Falling Apart Militarily

"When Mr. Dulles says that 'the unanimity of our thinking about the great basic issues makes it apparent that the time has come to advance NATO from its initial phase into the totality of its meaning,' he means that, militarily, NATO is falling apart."

The editorial goes on to say that the French have stripped their NATO contingents in Europe to deal with the rebellion in Algiers, that the West Germans have failed to pay their share of common defense costs, that the Belgians and the Dutch are deaf to General Gruenther's renewed appeals for a two-year period of conscription and that General Gruenther's successor isn't going to get the troops which were promised for the common defense. It is further emphasized that, militarily, the 12 existing divisions of NATO are ineffective and that the time has come to devise a new strategy. It is then pointedly asked if it is really neccompact group of nations with common interests, through the new essary "for the British and Americans to continue to spend a large amount of money on their forces in Germany?"

"Perhaps not," answers the Guardian. "For defense of the central front in Europe, we might rely chiefly on the threat of massive retaliation—which in fact is what we are now doing anyway. The threat might be more effective, as a defense, if it were explicitly acknowledged . . .

"If it is correct that the Russians have abandoned thought of direct military advance in Europe, as many people seem to think, the threat of massive retaliation is an adequate protection, and we do not need the Rhine armies. If that is not correct, and it might not be, we had better not try to bluff with General Gruenther's skeleton forces."

Churchill's Vision A Paradox

The editorial concedes that if the Soviet began "nibbling at points on the periphery,' 'this could not be met by "massive retaliation" because it might mean all-out war but that the remedy lies "in a small number of highly mobile units, available to go at once to any threatened part of the NATO area."

This could be construed as support for the idea of more mobile bases such as the modern aircraft carriers of the British and American navies provide. But, broadly speaking, the Guardian editorial ties in also with the increasing demand here in Congress for an intercontinental air force of long range bombers which by the threat of "massive retaliation," can serve as a deterrent to full scale aggression.

What it all adds up to is a realization that the millenium is still far away. For Sir Winston's vision of a "new Russia" is in itself a paradox in these days of distrust and misgiving about the real intent of the unregenerated rulers in the Kremlin.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Have it on reliable rumor and calibrated hearsay that this campaign is going to be dirtier than the back of history's neck.

All's fair in love and war and there are no foul lines in politics.

The Democrats feel they lost in 1952 because they pulled their punches like a guy patty-caking with a porcupine.

This time they are going to incorporate the whisper, subsidize the innuendo and compound the biggity lie. Names will be called and spades will have short handles.

That's the kind of politics that settled the West. And also fixed the South's feet.

Only trouble with smear expeditions is two can play at that game. When two play at it then it isn't a game anymore.

Medical Browsing Has Its Welcome Lighter Side

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Medical browsing has its lighter side—a welcome relief from reading technical papers on grave medical problems.

What do redheads have that no one else has? Trichosiderin, a pigment.

Many eras have been referred to as the aspirin age but I should judge we have priority. In the first six months of 1955, manufacturers produced 7,900,000 pounds, an increase of 11 per cent over the same period in 1954. This compound is so versatile and inexpensive, in many respects it deserves to be called a wonder drug.

Automation is now big business. According to Scope Weekly, these has ever been done before. One of these giant electronic brains was designed to coin chemical machines are almost human in their ability to perform tasks faster and more accurately than terms. But the machine has no censor and now and then turns out a combination of letters that form words not acceptable in polite society.

Since World War II, more Britishers have turned to coffee. The tea manufacturers of England must be chuckling over a recent epidemic among operators of coffee vending machines. Running the urns requires three to four strong movements of the wrist, several thousand times a day.

The exercise has proved too much for certain tendons in the wrist, which are becoming inflamed and tender. The condition has been termed espresso-wrist. Years ago, before diaper services were available, this type of wrist pain was common among mothers. Dr. A. W. L. Kessel, writing in the Lancet, said: "Barmaids no doubt are immune because beer is pulled with the wrists held stiffly, the elbow being flexed."

I did not know that cows are addicted to swallowing bits of metal they come upon in the pasture. But this habit has caused great loss to cattle raisers because the foreign bodies settle in the bottom of the animal's forestomach and occasionally penetrate the wall. This may lead to peritonitis and the owner has one less cow in his herd.

Dr. Harold K. Cooper, of Roanoke, Va., has a solution to the problem. He forces the cow to swallow a small, powerful magnet, which attracts and holds the metallic debris and prevents penetration of the tidbits through the stomach wall. The magnets are said to be noncorrosive and remain effective indefinitely.

TOMORROW: Launching a reducing aid.

INFECTION FROM MILK

E. W. writes: Can brucellosis be caught from drinking milk in small communities that have no pastuerization regulations?

REPLY

Yes. This is one of the ways in which the disease is contracted. When I take a trip I always insist upon pasteurized milk.

SURGERY FOR ARTHRITIS

V. T. writes: Can arthritis of the neck be cured by operation?

REPLY

Yes, but surgery is not practicable because it would leave the neck stiff.

NEW HICCUP REMEDY

T. O. writes: Is chlorpromazine established as a hiccup cure?

REPLY

Yes.

COLD IMMUNITY

C. V. writes: Is thtere any specific period of immunity to a cold after getting over one?

REPLY

Immunity is brief, varying from two weeks to five months. One explanation is that colds are caused by different strains of viruses. A person may develop the sniffles because of virus XYZ; and a month later, come down with a cold due to the XYZ-1 virus.

RASH FROM EARRINGS

Mrs. E. writes: I have worn earrings for 30 years without difficulty. But recently the skin behind my ears itches so much I have to take off the jewelry. Several of my friends are bothered in the same way. Can you help us?

REPLY

Stop wearing earrings for a few weeks and if the eruption subsides, your diagnosis is correct. On the other hand, this area also is a favorite site for seborrheic dermatitis, in which the skin is oily and scaly. The condition resists treatment.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

It's not as easy as it was once to trap suckers into joining the Communist party. One organizer in the Far West, they whisper, has been reduced to telling the few faithful remnants of his flock, "Sign up two new members and your dues will be cut in half. Bring in five and you have a free ride for life. And, comrades, enlist ten and get the most fabulous reward of all: an engraved certificate, signed by me, swearing that you have never been a member of the Communist party."

Man with a telescope at the Battery in New York had this sign attached to his instrument: "For one slim dime you can see an all-star cast. They work for nothing—and keep their sparkle straight through the night."

A doctor told a tired Chicago business man that what he needed was some change, so he went to Brooklyn and came home with four transfers and a subway token.

On The Line

By Bob Considine

ABOARD USS MT. McKINLEY, ENIWETOK PROVING GROUND (INS) — The chief engineer of this ship, Lt. Cmdr. Layton Young, has been present at most of the Pacific tests of the A- and the H-bomb. But he has never seen one except in the newsreels. He has always been at his station in the bowels of the ship.

"The boys get pretty tense down there when one of the big fellows is about to go off," he was telling us. "All those pipes around them and the turbines working and the boilers going makes it a little tough when you have to substitute imagination for the real thing the topside boys can see.

"That underwater test off California some time back felt like the biggest depth charge anybody ever let loose."

At which he put aside his cup of coffee and nonchanlantly descended into his domain to prepare for another test.

Bunker Moved Around

The eerily equipped command bunker on Enyu Island, 20 miles from the bullseye on little Namu, had a kind of small irrigation ditch running past it at the time of the last H-bomb test in '54. When the bomb went off (it was a surface shot that dug a huge watery crater in Bikini atoll) the tremendously strong control bunker "moved around" as one man who was present described it the other day.

"But that wasn't what shook us," he laughed. "What gave us the shakes for a time was that water started to pour under the door. The question was, 'Who's going to open the door to see if we're still on an island or in the Pacific?'

"Turned out to be our irrigation ditch, coming indoors out of the storm, I suppose."

An old Chicago police beat reporter, now an atomic authority, cast an admiring eye on the AEC camera that can take a picture in one three millionths of a second.

"What a gadget for the old badger game!" he enthused.

If ships could talk, this one could tell quite a yarn. She's been in the thick of interesting events since she slid down her ways at Wilmington, N. C., in 1943 as the SS Cyclone. As the McKinley, she served in five amphibious operations — Leyte, Palau, Lingayen Gulf, San Narcisco and Kerama Retto. She took part in the Japanese surrender, the landing of occupation forces, and first went into atomic work in 1946 at Bikini.

MacArthur's Command Ship

The McKinley carried the first cavalry division to Korea in July '50 and she was General MacArthur's command ship for the historic Inchon landings. She helped with the great redeployment from Hungnam after the Chinese Reds hit us near the Lalu. Since then she's been around the world and weathered at least two H-bombs, maybe more. Still sound as a dollar, an old style dollar.

Darwin, himself, was the first to discern why these atolls out here are necklace shaped. Seems that these once were mountains that slipped lower and lower into the sea. The coral along the mountain plateaus wasn't as well fed as along the edges of the sea. That coral grew taller, now sticks up and is called an atoll. See?

Beards are rapidly coming into popularity among the gay blades of London, according to a British newspaper. In this instance, the word "blades" has nothing to do with razors.

In the U. S., however, chin spinach still is almost non-existent despite the fact our No. 1 Boy, Uncde Sugar Able, sports a dandy crop.

A Seattle, Wash., man has started a walking trek to Fairbanks, Alaska. Guess he's trying to prove two feet equal to 2,300 miles.

A Buffalo, N.Y., high school is devoting 15 minutes a day for 15 weeks teaching its students good manners. Now there's an idea we're only too glad to tip our hat to.

Moscow continues to insist radio was invented by a Russian named Popov. Could it be that "Popov" is just the Soviet way of spelling "Marconi"?

Trouble with a rainy day is that while it's a dandy excuse not to mow the lawn it's also usually too wet to play golf.

Wilkinson asserted that he finally struck Lemmert when the latter called him a name. Commissioner James Orr, who had left the meeting room a few minutes previously, returned in time to help separate the two men and restore the commissioners' meeting to order.

Fort Hill Tank Is Found In Good Shape

Crews cleaning the interior of the Fort Hill water tank found the interior of the big reservoir in A-1 condition, Water Commissioner William J. Edwards announced yesterday.

He said the steel tank is being scraped down to the bare metal and then will be painted with a thick mastic preservative.

The job, he said, will be speeded up since crews will not have to make repairs before painting.

Local, Area Sailors Home On Leave

Stock Market Declines But Rally Trims Losses

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP) — The stock market rallied smartly today from a severe early decline and managed to close only moderately lower.

The sell off was the second blow dealt the mariet after the Russians yesterday announced plans to cut their military establishment.

The declines were attributed by brokers to a Wall Street fear that defense spending in the United States might be curtailed. At the same time it was pointed out the Russian statement provided a convenient excuse to sell to those who believed the market vulnerable for such a reaction.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 90 cents at $184.80. It lost $2.20 yesterday. The industrial component of the average was off $1.30, rails were down $1.00, and utilities were off 10 cents.

The list wasn't particularly broad with 1,189 individual issues traded of which 286 were higher and 662 lower. Only seven stocks managed new highs for the year while 112 slipped to new lows.

Volume came to 2,650,000 shares as compared with 2,440,000 shares traded yesterday.

Miller Scores Over Burdette In Mound Duel

Last Place Phils Shake Loss Streak Before 13,141 Fans

PHILADELPHIA, May 15 (AP)—In his first pitching assignment for Philadelphia since St. Louis traded him last Friday, Stu Miller throttled Lew Burdette and the Milwaukee Braves 3-1 before 13,141 at Connie Mack Stadium tonight.

Burdette seemed to have the edge until the late innings of a game that went scoreless until the seventh. He had handcuffed the Phils for only two hits until then.

Milwaukee, meanwhile, banged out six hits off Miller by the seventh inning when two of them paid off for a run. But that's as far as the Braves could go.

Miller's auspicious debut pulled the last-place Phils out of a 10-game losing streak. It was Philadelphia's first victory since April 29, although it held a 6-2 lead on the Pittsburgh Pirates in a game that was halted by the Pennsylvania State curfew law last Sunday.

Miller, a slightly-built righthander, gave up the Braves' only run when Wes Covington walked, Lew Burdette singled and Danny O'Connell walked to fill the bases in the seventh.

With two out, John Logan beat out an infield single, scoring Covington. Ed Mathews, went down swinging, leaving Burdette, O'Connell and Logan stranded.

In the same inning, the Phillies forged ahead with two runs. Jim Greengrass tripled to deep center when Bobby Thomson failed to hang on to the ball for which he leaped high. The blast scored Stan Lopata who had singled. Then Willie Jones smashed a hot grounder through Logan's legs for a single, scoring Greengrass.

The Phillies collected an insurance run in the eighth, when, with the bases loaded, Stan Lopata waited out a walk off reliever Dave Jolly to force in a run.

Billy Loes, New Oriole, Glad To Leave Brooklyn

Pitcher Will Join Baltimore Thursday

BROOKLYN, May 15 (AP) — Unpredictable Billy Loes, sold by the Dodgers to Baltimore yesterday, says he's glad to be out of Brooklyn where "I was always under a strain."

The sore - armed righthander, who pitched in only one National League game this season, issued a farewell statement in which he said his arm and shoulder are "coming around" and he hoped to get a starting assignment with the Orioles.

Loes' ailment has been diagnosed as tendonitis of the right shoulder and Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles admittedly was taking a chance in purchasing him for $20,000.

"I've been asking for two years to be traded and it's finally happened," Loes said. "I just could not be comfortable in Brooklyn.

"My arm and shoulder are coming around now. I was able to break off a curve freely when I pitched batting practice Sunday."

Loes will join the Orioles in Detroit Thursday.

Racing Commission Is Advised Of Vote On New Race Track

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., May 15 (AP)—The Jefferson County Court today issued a formal notice to the State Racing Commission today showing that the voters approved a harness track here in last Tuesday's primary election.

The court certificate said the official canvass showed the referendum was carried by a margin of 357 votes. Unofficial returns gave the margin at 395.

The racing commission meets next Thursday in Charles Town.

A syndicate of sportsmen plans to build a 2½ million dollar harness track on 135 acres of land directly across the road from the Charles Town Jockey Club's half-mile track.

Construction is expected to be started as soon as the group gets the official okay from the commission and is scheduled for completion by next spring.

Capon Bridge Is Eliminated From Running

Elk Garden Wins, 6-0, Leads In Sectional

Capon Bridge High School was eliminated from the running for the West Virginia Section 14 baseball title yesterday when Wardensville High School's Warriors upset the Hampshire countians at Wardensville by the score of 5-4.

Berkeley Springs High School became the sectional winner with a 5-1 record following the defeat of Capon Bridge and will battle Martinsburg High School, Section 13 winner, in the first game of the Region 4 tourney today at Charles Town. Capon Bridge finished with a 4-2 sectional record.

Elk Garden High School moved a step closer toward Section 16 honors by blanking Fort Ashby yesterday at Elk Garden by the score of 6-0.

Elks Lead Title Race

The victory gave the Elks a 6-1 record in their section while Keyser has ended its season with a 6-2 mark. Elk Garden has a game pending at Fort Ashby and whether they'll be forced to play it is uncertain. If the game is played and Fort Ashby wins it would necessitate a playoff between Keyser and Elk Garden for the sectional crown and the right to play Moorefield High, Section 15 winner, in the other Region 4 semi-final.

Dewaine Murphy posted a three-hitter and whiffed 14 batsmen as the Elks whitewashed Fort Ashby yesterday. It was the fourth straight win against no defeats for Murphy.

The Elks racked up 11 hits, including doubles by Murphy, John Hershberger and Tommy Milevac and a triple by Paul Tasker.

Wardensville scored two runs in the 7th inning to eke out a 5-4 decision over Capon Bridge. Cunningham's walk and Orndorff's infield hit tied the score and McCauley's wild throw on Merriman's sacrifice bunt sent over the deciding marker.

Cunningham Wins

Cunningham went the route for the Warriors, fanned eight and yielded six hits. Lovett started for Capon Bridge and his eight walks got him in trouble. McCauley came on in the 6th and was charged with the loss. The boxes:

TO RACE HERE — Sherwood Johnston, of Rye, N.Y., who piloted a Ferrari at an average speed of 67.9 miles per hour to win the feature event at the Cumberland Municipal Airport last year, is expected to be among the 200 entries in the fourth annual national sports car races to be held at the airport Sunday. Two novice races are scheduled Saturday, commencing at 3:15. Eight races are on Sunday's card, the first at 8:30 a. m. and the finale at 4 p. m. Sale of reserved seats ends today.

Tigers, Chisox Trade Players

DETROIT, May 15 (INS) — The Detroit Tigers, in need of bench strength, sent outfielder Jim Delsing and second baseman Fred Hatfield to the Chicago White Sox today in return for Bob Kennedy and Jim Brideweser.

In announcing the deal, Tiger officials said that the team is badly in need of some bench strength.

Delsing, who played for the Chicago White Sox in 1951, had appeared in one game this year and had gone hitless in 12 times at bat. He is a left-handed hitting outfielder and can play left, center or right.

Hatfield, a left-handed swinger, can play either second, short or third. The 31-year-old Hatfield lost his regular second base job to rookie Reno Bertoia and only had hit safely three times in 12 times at bat for a .250 batting average.

Brideweser, 29, formerly with the New York Yankees, played in nine games and was hitting .182. Kennedy, 35-year-old American League veteran, was hitting .077 and had played in only four games.

The almond is a native of the Mediterranean basin and southwestern Asia. It has been in cultivation from remote ages.

Cards Tumble Before Brooks By Score 7-5

Reese Belts 3-Run Homer; Poholsky Is Handed First Loss

BROOKLYN, May 15 (AP) — Four unearned runs in the fourth inning, in which rookie shortstop Don Blasingame erred twice and Peewee Reese poked a three-run homer, brought the Brooklyn Dodgers their fifth straight victory tonight as the world champions defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 7-5.

Reese's homer, his first of the season, ended Dodger scoring for the night and handed righthander Tom Poholsky his first defeat after three victories.

The Dodgers, who started behind rookie Charlie Templeton and finished with relievers Ed Roebuck and Clem Labine, jammed their scoring into two frames. They scored three in the first on a walk, Roy Campanella's triple and Gil Hodges' two-run homer, his sixth round-tripper of the year.

The Cards, who had won three straight and took two-of-three from the Brooks in St. Louis, scored twice in the third off Templeton, whose only two previous major league decisions were losses to the Redbirds, and tagged Roebuck for three in the sixth on Bill Virdon's second home run of the year.

The Dodger victory pulled the champs to within 1½ games of the National League lead.

Court Upholds Lifetime Suspension Imposed On Santee

Decision May Bring Court Fight To End

New York Justice Raps Knuckles Of Amateur Promoters

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP) — Wes Santee's hopes of regaining his amateur status and running in the Olympic games apparently were crushed today when the State Supreme Court upheld the lifetime suspension imposed on the Kansas miler by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Justice Walter A. Lynch, who handed down the biting opinion, also rapped the knuckles of amateur officials who seek to capitalize on sports stars.

"He (Santee) has eliminated himself as an amateur athlete," Justice Lynch said, "but not without an assist from some of the guardians of amateur athletics."

The justice added: "Promoters of amateur athletic meets should realize that while Santee, by his conduct, disqualified himself from amateur competition, the fault lies in no small part with them as a class.

Blasts Promoters

"The records show that in their desire for larger gate receipts some promoters have sought to capitalize on the athletic ability of such stars as Santee. From this unfortunate incident some good may come to amateur athletics in the United States."

The decision may have brought an end to the prolonged court fight which followed Santee's suspension last Feb. 19 on charges he took money above allowable expenses for competing in track meets.

Charles P. Grimes, Santee's attorney, said that while there were further legal steps he might take he didn't know yet whether they would be pursued.

Santee, a Marine lieutenant stationed at Quantico, Va., said he expected the opinion to be "more severe" and added that Justice Lynch "pointed out things we have been pointing out," in reference apparently to track meet promoters.

He gave no indication what further steps he might take to get his amateur standing restored. He said he disagreed with the justice's assertion that he "failed to follow the rules."

Ferris Gratified

Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the AAU, expressed himself as "gratified" over the decision but said there would be no other official comment until the text of the opinion had been studied.

Justice Lynch hit at Santee for failing to take the stand in his own behalf "when confronted by his accusers in the forum" and said the runner failed to answer charges that he violated the rules and regulations of the AAU.

Santee was specifically charged with expense account irregularities totalling around $1,500 in seven 1955 meets.

Miller Is Marbles Champ, Penn Avenue Sets Record

161 Entries Listed; Columbia, Centre St. Games Carded Today

John Miller, a previous marbles champion won yesterday at Pennsylvania Avenue School in a tournament that drew 161 entries. Meeting him in the finals was John Price who had also shot his way through all opposition to reach the finals.

Semi finalists yesterday were Richard Morgan, Gerald Shook, Norman Merrill (also a previous champion), Price and Miller.

Five teachers had reduced the 161 contestants to 34 for the final day's shooting. Conducting the Penn Avenue playoffs were W. Eugene Hilton, L. H. Chambers, Edward R. Langan, Joseph J. Byrnes and A. B. Plummer.

Record Entry List

As many as five rings were kept going at one time in order to reduce the extra large entry list—a record number ever to play marbles in one school.

Today's marbles finals are at Columbia Street and Centre Street. Tomorrow will find the tournament officials at Virginia Avenue and Johnson Heights, while Friday is scheduled for Humbird School.

Finals On June 5

Twenty four school champs (the top mibsters out of over 1300 entered in this year's marbles contests in the Cumberland area) will shoot June 5 at Gephart Playground, Frederick street, for the grand prize week's free trip to Asbury Park, N. J. where the Cumberland champion will get to play for the championship of the United States during the week of June 17. All expenses will be paid by the Times-News papers.

Last year's winner of the Asbury Park trip is Gary Barncord who represented Corriganville School in the Cumberland area finals.

Game Rescheduled

A postponed game between baseball teams of Mt. Savage and Beall high schools has been rescheduled for Thursday at 3:30 p. m. in Frostburg.

Johnny Saxton Is Favorite In Chicago Scrap

Meets Gil Turner In Non-Title Bout

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP) — Welterweight champion Johnny Saxton can both harvest revenge and get tuned up for his pending rematch with Carmen Basilio as he tackles middleweight Gil Turner in a televised 10-rounder at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

The non-title scrap in the same ring where Saxton dethroned Basilio in a fiercely controversial bout last March will be telecast and broadcast by ABC beginning at 9 p.m. EST.

The 26-year-old Saxton, an 8-5 favorite, has a score to settle with Turner, who handed Johnny his first defeat in 1953 after the present welter king had blazed unbeaten through 40 straight bouts.

That was the first of only four defeats in the career of Brooklynite Saxton, who has won 50 fights and had two draws in 56 starts.

Turner, also 26, has an impressive 50-10-1 record, including 33 knockouts, but the Philadelphian has dropped four of his last six bouts, including a Feb. 18 loss to Gene Fullmer in his most recent outing.

Bruce At Flintstone, Hyndman Hosts Beall In Bi-State Battles

Bruce High School plays host to Flintstone High's Aggies and Beall High's Mountaineers do battle with Hyndman at the latter place in Bi-State Conference baseball games on tap for today.

The Bulldogs from Westernport moved into a tie for third place on Monday by taking a bite out of LaSalle. A victory today would give Bruce possession of the third spot, 1½ games back of Fort Hill's front running nine. Coach Leonard Ritchie's team holds a 10-2 decision over the Aggies.

Beall and Hyndman also will be winding up their two-game series with the Hornets seeking revenge for an 11-6 defeat in Frostburg.

Potomac State's Game With A-B Rained Out

Rain at Philippi, W. Va., yesterday washed out the baseball game between Potomac State College and Alderson-Broaddus College. Coach John Maiden of Potomac State announced last night that the game has been cancelled.

The Catamounts play Frostburg State Teachers Friday at 4 p. m., at Beall High Field and close their season Saturday with Davis & Elkins College at 2 p. m. in Keyser.

Newest volcano in North America is Paracutin, in Mexico. It appeared in a cornfield on Feb. 20, 1943, and within nine years developed a cone 1,800 feet high.

Lennon Optioned

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP) — The Giants today optioned Brooklyn-born outfielder Bob Lennon to their Minneapolis farm club, subject to recall on 24-hour notice.

The 27-year-old Lennon clouted 31 home runs for Minneapolis last season.

Brooks Buy Sal Maglie

Sell Jim Hughes To Chicago Cubs

NEW YORK, May 15 (INS) — The Brooklyn Dodgers purchased their old nemesis, righthander Sal Maglie, from the Cleveland Indians tonight and sold relief hurler Jim Hughes to the Chicago Cubs.

Both were cash transactions, but the amounts involved were not disclosed.

The 39-year-old Maglie, sold to the Indians by the Giants last summer, had a 22-6 record against the Dodgers from 1950 through 1954, beating them 11 times in 12 decisions at Ebbets Field.

This year, he pitched four hitless innings for the Indians against his old cousins in an exhibition game at Jersey City April 30. In American League competition, he allowed one run and five hits in five innings for the Tribe.

Hughes set a Dodger record by appearing in 60 games in 1954, but he was hampered by arm trouble last season and had been ineffective this year. He is 32.

Gene Woodling Put On Disabled List

CLEVELAND, May 15 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today put outfielder Gene Woodling on the disabled list, cutting their active roster to 29 players.

The 33-year-old Woodling, complaining of dizzy spells and listlessness, dropped from the lineup last week in New York and went home to New Jersey for a physical checkup.

He is now in Presbyterian Hospital, Newark, undergoing a series of tests.

Giles Declares Erskine Must Return Bonus

Carl To Keep $500, O'Malley Indicates

CINCINNATI, May 15 (AP)—If Carl Erskine, Brooklyn pitcher, got a $500 bonus following his no-hitter against the New York Giants last Saturday, he will have to give it back.

So said President Warren C. Giles of the National League today.

Walter F. O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn club, was quoted following the game as saying Erskine would be rewarded with a $500 check.

"All I know about the matter is what I read in the newspapers, but I have written the Brooklyn club about it," Giles said.

"I asked if they had paid or contemplated paying Erskine a bonus," Giles continued. "There is a rule against giving a bonus to a player."

In Brooklyn, O'Malley indicated that Erskine would keep the bonus.

He issued this statement and refused to elaborate:

"We are not Indian givers. If Mr. Giles has ruled on the matter we will respect his ruling, but, in compliance, will not penalize Carl Erskine for having been Brooklyn's first two-time no-hit pitcher."

Detroit Tigers Top Bosox, 6-3

Nixon Is Hit Hard, Paul Foytack Wins

DETROIT, May 15 (AP) — Young Paul Foytack gained his second major league pitching victory today as the Detroit Tigers backed him with a 13 hit attack in defeating the Boston Red Sox 6-3.

The 25-year-old righthander, making his third start of the season, needed a tight relief performance from Steve Gromek. The veteran sidearmer pitched the eighth and ninth innings and struck out four of the six men he faced.

Willard Nixon was routed after 2 2-3 innings. The Tigers sent 23 men to the plate in the first four innings, scoring five runs on eight hits against Nixon, who lost his second game. He has yet to win.

Detroit had at least one hit in every inning, and every starter took part in the attack except the slump-ridden Ray Boone. Detroit's Al Kaline returned to the lineup after missing two games with a bum shoulder and bad leg and had two singles in four official trips.

Giants Break Losing Streak

Johnny Antonelli Defeats Cubs, 6-4

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Willie Mays and Don Mueller broke out of batting slumps today with a total of six hits, including a home run each, to end the New York Giants' four-game losing streak with a 6-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Johnny Antonelli, who pitched hitless ball through the first four innings, had to put down a late Chicago rally to gain his second pitching triumph against three defeats. Warren Hacker was the loser.

Mays blasted two singles in addition to his home run and accounted for two runs. Mueller matched Mays' homer in the third inning in addition to getting a single in the first and a double in the seventh, each scoring Mays.

The Cubs, hitless through the first four inngs, started getting to Antonelli in the fifth and climaxed their late bid in the ninth when Ernie Banks hit his eighth home run of the year, scoring Frank Kellert ahead of him.

Chicago got a run in the first on two walks and a single by Walt Moryn and another in the sixth when Kellert boomed a triple after Gene Baker had singled.

Chisox Sell Byrd

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—Pitcher Harry Byrd, 31, who has been with four American League clubs since 1952, today was sold by the Chicago White Sox to Charleston of the American Assn. for an undisclosed sum.

Byrd broke into the majors in the Philadelphia A's in 1950, but did not spend a full season with the club until 1952 when he had a 15-15 record. He recorded an 11-20 mark for the A's in 1920 and in 1954 hurled 9-7 for the New York Yankees.

Byrd started the 1955 season with the Baltimore Orioles and was purchased by the White Sox last June, finishing with a 7-8 record. He had 0-1 to date this season.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 15—(INS)—With "Island in the Sun," the Alec Waugh best seller, postponed until December at 20th, Dorothy Dandridge has time to make two films in Europe before returning here.

The first job to supply songstress Dandridge with the moola for new mink coats and diamond rings is "Tamango" for French Producer Roland Girard. It's a short story by Prosper Merimee whose "Carmen" became a classic opera and served as the basis of Dorothy's "Carmen Jones."

Her second picture is "The Shortcut" for Henri Bevard of Prima Films of Paris. In this, Dorothy pays a Portuguese girl in love with an Italian officer.

There has been much talk about George Stevens producing and directing "Andersonville" for Columbia. He's crazy about the book and he'd like to do it, and naturally, Harry Cohn would like to get him. So there doesn't seem to be much to stand in the way.

George has a month's more work on "Giant," and then he'll be free, but "Andersonville" will take a lot of preparation and won't be ready to film for some months. The only thing that I can see that can stand in the way would be George's commitments with 20th Century-Fox. But that, I believe, could be worked out, too.

Faraway Tahiti has been chosen by Jon Hall for the world premiere of his new Telefilm series, "Knight of the South Seas." The proceeds will go to the elephantiasis research fund, with which the French government hopes to stamp out that dread disease in Tahiti.

Jon's uncle, Emile Martin, owner of Papeete's Electrical Telephone and Brewery Company, is in charge of the premiere arrangements. This coincides with the week long South Seas Islands Olympic games which start on Bastille Day, July 14. Jon's lady love, Linda Danson, is accompanying him to Tahiti where Jon spent most of his boyhood.

The reason she didn't make a picture for so long, Myrna Loy tells me, was because she never found a script she liked until "The Ambassador's Daughter." She and her husband, Howland Sargent, are at the Beverly Hills Hotel. He leaves Thursday, but Myrna remains on to see her mother and friends.

She said when Eddie Arnold went to Paris to make "The Ambassador's Daughter" it was his first trip to Europe and he was so happy all the time he was making the picture.

Myrna, herself, will make some appearances. "Not to go on tour," she said, "but just a few interviews."

Snopshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Kay Norton and columnist Bob Sylvester tied the knot on Monday. This has been a seven year courtship and everyone wishes them much happiness.

Actress Ann Doran underwent major surgery today at Midway Hospital.

Linda Darnell and handsome Captain Robert Robinson, airplane pilot, were happy together at a dinner given by Pierre La Mure.

From New York I hear that shoeman Harry Karl and Florence Horne have been doing the town together.

A note from Errol Flynn who sends me a picture of himself and an actress in her seventies. He says, "This is just to prove to you that it's strictly an ugly rumor when they say I like only young girls. From this amorous look would you say I'd upped my age limit?"

A dinner twosome at the Traders was attorney Bentley Ryan and Barbara Rush.

For the second time J. Carol Naish is a grandfather. His daughter, Mrs. Jack Sheridan, welcomed a girl. Her other child is a boy.

Merry Anders bows into "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" Locally after Mamie Van Dorn bowed out. Gene Raymond is still set as the author.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

W.Va. Man Given Three Year Term

A West Virginia man who was placed on parole in Circuit Court here March 22 on a charge of auto larceny, yesterday was brought into court and ordered committed to the Maryland Reformatory for Males for three years for breaking the parole.

He is Junior William Lee, 23, of Rowlesburg, who was returned here on a bench warrant issued by Chief Judge George Henderson.

Lee was tried in court here in March for stealing a local man's car and later wrecking it on an area road. His parole contained strict provisions against use of alcoholic beverages, and required payment of $150 for damages to the car, and maintenance of good behavior.

Recently, Lee was taken into custody in the Rowlesburg area for breaking and entering, according to police. West Virginia authorities decided to turn him over to the court here for action.

Impeccable grooming counts more than a fabulous wardrobe.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Best Dressed Is Best Groomed

If you could play reporter and interview any half dozen women on the Best-Dressed lists, some of your notes would repeat themselves a half dozen times.

Your interview subjects would tell you how important it is to wear only what's becoming to you regardless of fashion, how important it is to have exactly what you need for the life you lead and to wear the right thing at the right time. And it's more than likely that they'd say an elaborate wardrobe isn't necessary—many Best-Dressed favorites state frankly that their own wardrobes fall far short of fabulous and that they wear "classics" for years.

What they might not talk about is impeccable grooming, the enormously important part it plays, the effect it creates that nothing else can equal. The fashion standout may own a sound and tasteful wardrobe rather than a bedazzling one, but she never settles for less than perfect grooming. The best dressed is the best groomed every time.

Especially in the past few years, few women on Best-Dressed lists can be classed as clothes horses. Tehy are instead important in business, the arts, philanthropy, and public affairs — women who lead lives as full as yours, too full to over-emphasize clothes. They must, be surpassingly intelligent about them and rely a great deal on keeping their clothes and themselves at the peak of perfection.

Indifferent grooming spoils the handsomest costume, but your public is quick to overestimate when you're so beautifully turned out. To star at every personal appearance — just be the best-groomed woman you know.

Tomorrow — A model secret.

Church Selects Mrs. H. H. Doak As Mother Of Year

Mrs. H. H. Doak, 517 Memorial Avenue, was honored as "Mother of the Year" by the congregation of First Christian Church at the morning worship service Sunday.

Mrs. Doak has been active in church affairs for a number of years and her selection reflected the esteem in which she is held by the congregation. She was presented a white Bible as a momento of the occasion.

Mrs. Doak is the mother of three children, Margaret Doak, principal of Parkside School; Major Robert Doak, stationed with the Army in Georgia, and Ralph Doak, of Cumberland.

Two other mothers, Mrs. George MacDonald and Mrs. Leona McClellan, were also honored and presented white testaments.

City Will Use Voting Machines

The city plans to ask the Board of Election Supervisors for permission to use its voting machines in the next municipal elections in 1958.

The question has been posed many times since the machines were purchased by the county and used for the first time in the statewide primary a week ago.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said use of the machines would, in all probability, bring about some changes in polling places since plans would be set up to use as few of the machines as possible. As in the county election, use of the machines would enable the city to combine several precincts into one polling place where formerly a polling place was needed for each of the precincts.

Municipal Airport Road Light-Surfaced

Anticipating heavy traffic over the weekend in connection with the Lions Club-sponsored sports car races, the Street Department has completed light-surfacing of the road to Municipal Airport.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said yesterday the job has been completed. The road was improved from its junction with Route 28 into the airport proper.

Modern needles came into use in 1545.

Television And Radio

How To Win Friends

"Report from America" is a filmed TV series designed to show this country to Britons — and any other country that wants to look— as we really are. It is produced by an NBC film team headed by Don Cash under the auspices of the British Broadcasting Corporation and the United States Information Agency and already, after only three shows, it is a huge hit with the British public.

As an example of the sort of comment the new series has evoked, The Bristol Evening Post has remarked: "It is astonishing what a great disservice the majority of American films do to their native country; how inaccurately they portray the American way of life. Alistair Cooke's 'Letter From America' did much to remedy this. The new 'Report From America' series is meant to be the visual equivalent of these. And I think they will succeed."

The series is designed not to boast about America — there has been entirely too much of that abroad already and it does not win us any friends — but to show our problems and how we meet them. The first one, for instance, was about our parking and other traffic problems and it started out by showing that it is practically impossible to park not only in New York but anywhere in the country. Well, traffic and parking are not just American problems, they are almost worldwide problems and are especially acute in England. The English reaction to the fact that we had the problem as badly or worse than they did was universely sympathetic.

This, I think, is propaganda at its wisest. For one thing, it makes human beings of us. For another, it's honest. The traffic show started with a shot of Joseph C. Harsch, the NBC Washington commentator who narrates all these films, trying to find a parking space and not finding one. Then you see the congested city streets, the inumerable "No Parking" signs and you meet a lot of Americans, grappling with the problem as best they can.

There are some nice touches of quiet humor in this one which ought to win us some friends, too. Of course, the picture isn't all black. America's great superhighways, its cloverleaf intersections, its freeways all get very good notices. Harsch pointed out that much of the nation's cargo moved freely on our 3,000,000 mile network of highways. Of this bit the The London Evening News said: "Such things as the conversation between the long-distance truck driver and his acquaintance in a roadside cafe were so convincing that one could hardly believe they had been staged for the purpose." (But they were. The "long distance truck driver" was actually an NBC announcer.)

Second of the series was about the small town newspaper, the Suffolk County News of Sayville, L. I., and how it managed to compete with New York's big newspapers with local crusades and local reportage. This afforded an opportunity to show a picture of one of our older small towns. Sayville was shown to be a town where people chipped in to build a new Lutheran church and started an ambulance service manned by volunteers. After this was shown on the BBC, thousands of letters from Britons poured in on the Suffolk County News. One man sent a coat, explaining that regulations forbade him from sending money out of Great Britain but that they could sell the coat and turn the money over to the fund to rebuild the church.

So far there have been five "Reports" and a sixth is in the cutting stage. Three have been shown on BBC and the idea is to supply one every fourth Wednesday from now on. The others are concerned with how Pittsburgh licked its smog problem (which instantly started Londoners to asking why London couldn't do the same thing about its own smog problem), Education, American shopping habits, and automation.

Already the problem has received the highest rating of any filmed documentary on the BBC. So far Britain is the only country it has been shown in but the program will be translated into practically all languages including Arabic and Chinese and it is hoped that it will get worldwide circulation. That is, it will be shown everywhere except here because there is a regulation forbidding the showing of any material put out by the United States Information Agency in this country. Don't ask me why.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	4 ♥

Opening lead—queen of spades.

Despite all the advances which have been made during recent years in the science of bidding—and they have been considerable—there is still quite a distance to go before the absolute in precision bidding can be attained. When one considers that there are 635,013,559,600 different thirteen card hands you can be dealt from a bridge deck, and that your partner may hold any one of 8,122,425,444 hands in conjunction with each and every one of yours, the difficulty of arriving consistently at the best contract can be better appreciated. It would appear to this writer that the contract arrived at by North-South in today's hand followed standard bidding procedures, but the fact remains that the four heart contract was decidedly inferior to a three notrump contract.

Against the opening spade lead the declarer can see that he has no losers in hearts or clubs, but two losers each in spades and diamonds. South must discover some means of avoiding one of these losers, or else he will finish with only the nine tricks in sight. If he looks closely enough he may find a legitimate plan to make the hand, and in fact will become a favorite to bring in the contract.

South should win the spade with the ace and play a low club from dummy. This play deliberately loses a trick which is not a loser. But there is a method to the madness, as can be seen when East goes up with his queen of clubs. Declarer now has ten tricks instead of nine. After the defenders cash two spades and shift to a diamond, South wins, plays his jack of clubs, and plays three rounds of trump, ending in dummy. The two diamond losers go on the ace-king of clubs. The low club play will succeed also if the queen of clubs is moved to the West hand. Since East would in such case follow low to the club, South ought to presume that West has the queen, and play the nine and not the jack of clubs. This would bring about the same winning position as before.

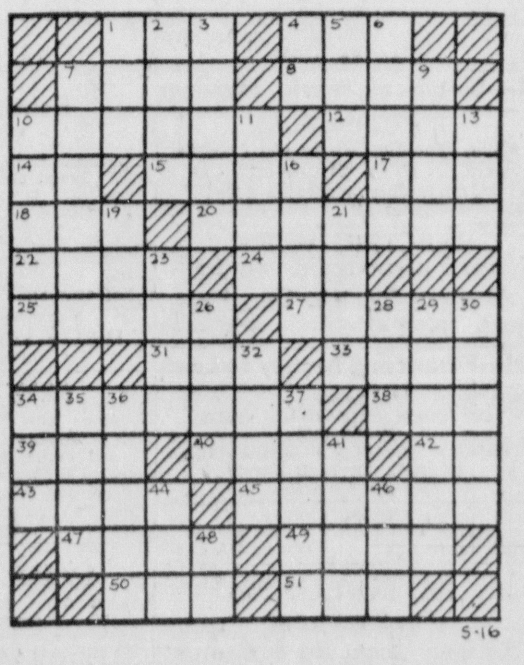
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

N D L Y X D - E Y T K O, U Z D Y E E - D J J - Q Z E E X H U Z O Q J L F Z L X D Y H X T N D Y M N — D K H H M N J H.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: HE WIELDS A MIGHTY SCEPTRE O'ER LESSER POWERS THAT BE — WALLACE.

DRAFTSMEN

A Frank Statement:
WHY YOU'LL DO BETTER at ELECTRIC BOAT

First, take the unique company educational program — a series of courses designed just for you—comprehensive training in nuclear propulsion design which gives you increased earning power in this all-important field.

Then, take Electric Boat's employment record: no draftsman has been laid off for over 35 years. It's a record that reflects long-range, astute planning and steady, solid growth.

And don't overlook the very product with which Electric Boat is identified — atomic powered submarines, the first in the world. The problems involved in their development are unique and highly advanced, requiring special talents and skills. Another factor in Electric Boat's favor is its location—on Long Island Sound, a choice year-round vacation and living environment near both New England and New York advantages—housing available, too.

Other advantages include a 6-day work week, moving expenses, and a liberal employe benefit program.

Immediate Openings in:

PIPING
Minimum 2 to 3 years' experience in design of steam, condensate, air, water, ventilation, hydraulic systems or reactor piping systems. Marine power plant or chemical process experience desirable.

MECHANICAL
Minimum 2 to 3 years' experience in design of hydraulic components, gear and link mechanisms, castings, weldments and special valves.

STRUCTURAL
For design and detail of structures and foundations associated with nuclear powered submarines.

ELECTRICAL
Minimum 2 to 3 years' experience in the development of electrical plans for A. C. and D. C. power, lighting, interior communications, control and electronics systems.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Rosalind M. Lippold and Regina M. Lippold, Executrices of the estate of Ralph Lippold, deceased, vs. The unknown heirs of Reverend Iranaeus Reinl, deceased. No. 24485 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of a one sixth interest in a certain parcel of land improved by a two story brick building known as No. 160 Frederick Street, Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland.

The Bill recites that Ralph Lippold departed this life February 19th, 1952 and by his last Will and Testament devised his entire estate equally to his wife Verle Virginia Lippold and the Pastor of Sts. Peter and Paul, Roman Catholic Church, located in Cumberland, Maryland, and appointed Rosalind M. Lippold and Regina M. Lippold to be the executrices of said Last Will and Testament. That the estate of Ralph Lippold was insolvent at the time of his death. That the executrices advanced certain sums of money to pay all of the debts and funeral expenses of the said Ralph Lippold. That Verle Virginia Lippold deeded her interest in said property unto Roselind M. Lippold and Regina M. Lippold. That the Pastor of Sts. Peter and Paul Church at the time of the death of the said Ralph Lippold attempted to convey the remaining one sixth interest unto the said Rosalind and Regina M. Lippold, by the same deed. That the title to this one sixth interest by the wording of the Last Will and Testament was vested in the Pastor of Sts. Peter and Paul Church as of the date of the said will. That Reverend Iranaeus Reinl was the Pastor at that time. That Reverend Iranaeus Reinl predeceased the said Ralph Lippold. That title to the aforesaid one sixth interest is vested in the heirs at law of the said Reverend Iranaeus Reinl if any. That the executrices pray that the one sixth interest be sold and that they be reimbursed for their expenditures for the payment of the debts and funeral expenses of the said Ralph Lippold, deceased.

It is thereupon this 21st day of April 1956, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, that the Plaintiffs, by causing this order to be inserted in some newspaper, published in Allegany County, once a week for four successive weeks before the 22nd day of May, 1956, giving notice to the unknown heirs of Reverend Iranaeus Reinl of the object ~~of this~~ suit and the substance thereof, and warning them to be and appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 7th day of June, 1956, to show cause, if any they may have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

GOP Convention To Hear Hall, McKeldin Today

Baltimore Site Of State Meeting

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP) — Maryland Republicans, hoping to make capital of a close Democratic primary vote, gather here tomorrow for a state convention which should be quick, smooth and devoid of any fireworks.

They will nominate Sen. John Marshall Butler for a second six-year term and choose 24 delegates to the national GOP convention in San Francisco Aug. 20.

They also will hear party pep talks by chairman Leonard Hall of the Republican National Committee and Gov. McKeldin.

McKeldin's re-election as chairman of the state delegation presumably will be automatic. The two-term Republican governor also is expected to be influential in choosing who will accompany him to San Francisco.

10 "At-Large" Delegates

The delegates will be elected on the basis of two each from Maryland's seven congressional districts and 10 from the state at large. Six of these are "bonus" votes at the national convention. They are awarded for having a Republican governor and two Republican senators and for the state having gone Republican in the last presidential election.

The state's minority party, outnumbered 2 to 1 by Democrats in registration, will be looking to Butler to repeat his 1950 victory which ended 24 years in the Senate by Democrat Millard E. Tydings.

Tydings again will be his opponent. But where Butler had no significant opponent in a three-way primary race, Tydings was hard-pressed by George P. Mahoney for the nomination. They split 76-76 in the unit vote count Maryland employs for primaries—the first such tie in the state's history— and Tydings won the nomination with an edge in the popular votes.

Hope For Demo Disunity

In recent previous elections Democrats have failed to rally their superior numerical strength after close primary contests. Although the Mahoney-Tydings campaign lacked the bitterness of previous ones for senator and governor, Republicans are certain to draw encouragement at tomorrow's convention from the closeness of its vote.

The convention, which gets under way at 11 a. m. in the Lord Baltimore Hotel, will be attended by 142 delegates elected in the May 7 primary. Also on hand will be Maryland's three Republican congressmen and the four GOP nominees seeking congressional seats now held by Democrats.

Demos Plan Convention

BALTIMORE, May 15 (AP) — T. Barton Harrington, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, tonight called the state convention for Monday at 2 p.m. in a downtown Baltimore Hotel (The Emerson).

Harrington announced the convention date after conferring with party leaders, including Mayor D'Alesandro of Baltimore, former Gov. William Preston Lane Jr., and former Sen. Millard E. Tydings, the Democratic nominee for the Senate.

In addition to formalizing Tydings' nomination, the convention will choose the delegates who will cast Maryland's 18 votes in the national convention next August.

Delegates to the state convention also will name a national committeeman and committeewoman. Mayor D'Alesandro and M. Alice Canoles now hold the posts.

Higgins, county supervisor of pupil personnel. A similar workshop for parents living in the George's Creek area started yesterday morning at Barton Elementary School. Dr. Walter Waetjen of the Child Study Institute is consultant there. Both workshops designed to develop leaders for parent discussion groups will end at 3 p. m. today.

Youths Warned Of Danger From Impulsive Actions

"It Isn't Worth the Chance" is the title of a booklet prepared by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher for distribution to school children of this county — and their parents.

The pamphlet explains the consequences which may come from impulsive or thoughtless acts and reminds parents that 10 p. m. is the "hour of danger."

The booklets will be given to students in the seventh grade up, with the Board of Education handling distribution to public schools and Police Chief R. E. Flynn to parochial schools.

Fletcher points out that 210 offenders under the age of 18 were put on trial in Juvenile Court here last year and that 114 of them were sentenced to penal institutions.

"We do not have the worst youths in the state by any means," he said, "and we do not want them to become that way.

"We have very good youths in the county," he added, "and the booklet is just a means of bringing to their attention that serious results can follow thoughtless action."

Fletcher points out that committing a crime can bring "grief to your parents and your loved ones—they also must share in your disgrace."

Youths were reminded that their future is handicapped by being arrested or found guilty of a crime.

Juvenile Court, he added, "is a penal court — and being young or a first offender does not necessarily mean you'll get off."

To parents, he said statistics reveal that 80 per cent of the 16 and 18-year-old offenders turn to crime after 10 p. m.

He asked parents, at that time of night, to ask themselves, "Where are my children?"

Garrett County Man Gets $2,090 For Property

A Garrett County resident was awarded $2,090 yesterday morning following a condemnation suit which was tried before a jury in the Circuit Court of that county.

He is Ambrose Schenck, who had been offered $400 for his property five years ago by the Maryland State Roads Commission.

The jury heard the case during the morning and reached the decision just before noon after deliberating about 20 minutes.

Schenck, who was represented by Horace P. Whitworth Jr. of Westernport, was awarded $1,700 by the jury members and the interest over the five-year period was $390.

The land sought by the SRC is located along State Route 219 in Garrett County and involved about an acre and a half of property.

The same jury which heard yesterday's case, also heard testimony in another condemnation case involving property adjoining Schenck's property and belonging to a son, Leo Fredlock Schenck.

However the suit heard on Monday ended with a "hung jury" as they were unable to reach a decision. The SRC offered the son $450 and he is seeking $3,000.

Yesterday's case was heard by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley. Representing the SRC were Fred A. Puderbaugh, local attorney, and William Treacy, Oakland attorney.

Dr. Wood Elected Md. Vice President

Other officers named at the convention last week were Dr. Charles Broadrup, Frederick, president, and Dr. Ernest Nuttall, Baltimore, president-elect.

The last Cumberland dentist to serve as state vice president was Dr. H. R. Williams, who filled the post in 1950. Dr. J. Russell Cook served as state president some eight or nine years ago. Dr. Wood was elected after having received the endorsement of the Allegany-Garrett Dental Society.

Plans Are Made To Halt Escape Of Sewer Fumes

Buchholtz To Check, Report To Council

Plans were made last night for correcting a health hazard resulting from openings in a flood control sewer, according to Mayor Charles Fryer of Ridgeley.

He said Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz reported he will investigate and report to the Mayor and Council of Cumberland on Monday, so corrective steps can be taken.

Mayor Fryer said sewer gas is escaping from the Mineral Street outlet of a combined sewer, which is lower than the Potomac River, and from four openings in the conduit.

The subject was discussed in Ridgeley last night at a meeting of town officials with Commissioner Buchholtz and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

Mayor Fryer said there was considerable discussion on the cost of correction, and it was estimated a trap device to prevent escape of fumes would cost about $3,000.

It was not certain, he added, whether the city has accepted the line, and Commissioner Buchholtz promised to investigate the legal status.

He said Commissioner Buchholtz said steps will be taken to correct the health hazard after it was pointed out that "if an epidemic resulted, it might spread to Cumberland."

Mayor Fryer said the hazard was first brought to the attention of the City of Cumberland on January 31, and that the current action is being taken to secure correction before hot weather arrives.

Also attending were Ridgeley Councilmen William Mickey, Merle Cornelius, William Knieriem and Theodore Dayton, and the Flood committee, headed by Olin Logsdon, Earl Ridgeley, Herbert Davis and J. B. Faller.

Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers, attended as an observer.

Circus Show To Be Here Tomorrow

A miniature circus street parade that took 14 years to build at a cost of $10,000 was the incentive that eventually resulted in the million-dollar National Circus Museum, which will be on display at the home of Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW, tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The fabulous display comprised of literally tens of thousands of circus curios, priceless antiques, historical posters and heralds, will recall to memory ancient circus "greats" and "near greats" who thrilled our great-grandfathers a hundred years ago.

The exhibit will be open from 2 p. m. until 6 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. The circus will arrive in Cumberland aboard a fleet of specially built vans.

In addition to the unabridged historical display of ancient spangleland relics dating back to the 18th Century, local patrons for the first time will be treated to a first-hand study of the Museum's exotic 110-foot old-time circus parade presented in a three-dimensional city background.

Actually it required years of advance study along with careful planning of a corps of technicians, engineers and circus experts before it was possible to assemble the gigantic exhibit for transport to make it the first and only Circus Museum ever able to be shown nationwide, city-to-city.

Saville Issued County Permit For Junkyard

Picardy Man Gets 11th Authorization

Wilson Saville of Picardy in the eastern end of Allegany County yesterday received a permit from the County Board of Commissioners for the operation of a junkyard on a three-quarter acre tract on the south side of Daly Road in Election District 33.

This is the 11th junkyard permit which the county commissioners have issued.

Some five restrictions were stipulated by the commissioners before issuing the permit:

The yard for dismantling and reconditioning of automobiles must be confined to the three-quarter acre tract.

No Sunday operations will be permitted.

Automobile parts for re-sale must be stored in an 18-by-20 foot building to be erected by Saville.

All scrap and partially dismantled vehicles must be kept at least 100 feet from Daly Road.

All scrap must be disposed of by the truckload as soon as it accumulates and must not be stockpiled.

A letter of complaint from J. S. Sloan of Lonaconing about the condition of Screen's Alley in Watercliffe was referred to County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman for investigation. Sloan wrote that about four years ago the alley was covered with shale.

Traffic has increased and all of the shale has been ground into powder, he adds. As a result residents in the area cannot open their doors or windows because of the dust.

The curve at the top of the alley also is dangerous at time of rains, Sloan said.

James Williams of Mt. Savage appeared before the county commissioners to complain about a letter he has received from Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, which protested a bad sewage condition on Williams' property.

The commissioners said they lacked jurisdiction in the matter. They advised Williams to contact Dr. Frantz or J. B. Dowling, state sanitarian here.

The commissioners also received a letter yesterday from W. F. Griffith, director of Field Service of the American National Red Cross, Alexandria, Va., expressing appreciation for the resolution they adopted following the recent death of Mrs. Martha O. Witherup, executive secretary of the Red Cross here.

Rec Department Plans Pogo Stick Games, Contests

Pogo sticks will be introduced on playgrounds this summer, Robert E. Pence, city recreation director, announced yesterday.

It will be a revival, he said, of a sport which was popular about 30 years ago, and happens to be timely, since a number of Cumberland boys and girls received pogo sticks as Christmas gifts.

Pence said the department has secured two dozen pogo sticks, which will be moved from one playground to another.

Special games and contests are being planned, he said, with pogo sticks.

Use of the jumping sticks, he added, is quite a test of skill and balance.
